Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh The sense of smell of taste, of sight of hearing the human voice the mind—one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave It is time then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr Sanford in the preparation of his Radical Cure has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds sneezing snuffling and obstructed breathing and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms clearing the head [illegible] restoring the senses of smell taste and hearing and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys

HARRISON'S CALLERS.

A Steady Stream of Office-Seekers and Others.

SPECULATION AS TO THE CABINET

Blaine and Windom Are a Certainty—All Else is Doubt and Chaos—Ex Governor Moody May Represent the Pacific Coast.

WASHINGTON Feb 27 —This has been a very busy day with the president elect There was a constant stream of visitors, notwithstanding the weather was extremely wet slushy and disagreeable At 2 o'clock the general shut himself up with his family for luncheon The callers included members of congress and other officials and Mr. and Mrs Blaine

CABINET SPECULATION

After luncheon the stream of visitors flowed on as broad and deep as ever Cabinet gossip was the absorbing theme everywhere Blaine and Windom were with General Harrison longer than his other callers and this fact served to fasten still more deeply in the popular mind the places accorded them

During the afternoon Russell Harrison visited the capitol and held a consultation with Senators Sherman Quay, Haddock and others His presence there set speculation on foot at a great pace The general impression to night is that beyond two or three places nothing is settled A Pacific coast senator said he was satisfied ten days ago that General Harrison had determined not to give the western slope representation in his cabinet now he is just as well satisfied that a Pacific coast man is under consideration It might be either Estee or Swift of California or ex Governor Moody of Oregon West wants the interior department.

Nebraska men interested in securing a place in the cabinet for John M Thurston are compelled to confess that it looks like John W Noble of Missouri for the place

A new possibility has developed in the person of Congressman Coggswell of Massachusetts who represents the Salem district where Secretary Endicott resides He is an old associate of General Harrison having commanded a brigade with him in General Ward's division

Vermont representatives are urging ex Governor Redfield Proctor for secretary of war and two or three authorities agree in asserting that Governor Rusk of Wisconsin is no longer a possibility in this connection

Two congressmen who called upon General Harrison and talked cabinet to him say Blaine and Windom are the only certainties Wanamaker and Noble are probabilities although considerable opposition to the former has been developed All else is chaos

Naturally the chief interest is about New York Rival delegations are here working for Platt and Miller—one for the treasury and the other for the agricultural department—and it is said the matter is greatly harassing General Harrison

THEY DINE AT THE WHITE HOUSE

The mysterious letter received by the president elect yesterday afternoon from the White House proved to be an invitation to General Harrison and wife to dine this evening at 7 with President and Mrs. Cleveland The invitation was accepted and at the hour named the guests left the hotel for the White house During the day and evening the ladies received many calls among them members of the Corean delegation Minister Preston of Hayti and others

While President and Mrs Cleveland were entertaining General and Mrs Harrison Lamont was initiating Halford into the mysteries of the official side of the executive mansion

CONGRESSMAN BELDEN GIVES A DINNER.

WASHINGTON Feb 27 —Congressman Belden of New York gave a dinner to-night to the republican members and members-elect of congress from the Empire state After dinner the delegation called on General Harrison and Private Secretary Halford Several members when asked if the cabinet had been discussed assured the associated press reporter that it had not been After the call on General Harrison a number of gentlemen gathered in Senator Hiscock's parlor

HIS INAUGURAL ADDRESS

INDIANAPOLIS Ind Feb 27 —It is reported that Harrison will startle the country and particularly place hunters by declaring in his inaugural address that he will under no circumstances be a candidate for renomination four years hence This it is said is to give him greater freedom of action in making appointments

BLAINE'S GOOD JUDGMENT

He Has Volunteered No Advice to General Harrison on Cabinet Matters

WASHINGTON Feb 27 —Blaine says positively that he has had no communication with the president-elect about any member of the cabinet except himself and has made no attempt to influence the selection of any of his colleagues He thought the best course to pursue was to keep himself in such a condition that he might be on good terms with anybody who should be invited into the cabinet and that he should give no opinion on the subject to any one unless he might be invited to do so by General Harrison himself

BLAINE OBJECTS

AUGUSTA Feb 27 Hon Henry Lord president of the Maine senate to day received the following telegram from James G Blaine "I have this moment read Boutelle's letter suggesting that the legislature provide a portrait of myself to be placed among the portraits of the ex speakers of the national house of representatives Though well intended I regret that the request was made and hope neither the senate or the house will take any action whatever in the matter It would be altogether distasteful to me to have such a proposition submitted to the legislature

A POLITICAL ASPIRANT

A Patrolman Who Wants the Position of Collector of Customs

EL PASO Tex Feb 27 Patrolman Bob McKee of the El Paso police force has returned from Indianapolis Ind McKee is a cousin of General Harrison's son in law of the same name and went to Indianapolis to develope his political prospects He wants to be collector at this point This customs district extends from Yuma Ariz near the California boundary line to Presidio Mexico about 850 miles and has forty two candidates for the place The fight is so bitter that it is sometimes thought that an Eastern man will be appointed

THE "SPELLBINDER'S" DINNER

The Greatest Event at Washington Prior to the Inauguration

WASHINGTON, Feb 27 —The event now most talked of to occur prior to the inauguration is the 'spellbinder's' dinner on Saturday evening, in the Grand Army hall when the campaign orators of 1888 from the four points of the compass will concentrate at the capital and it is expected that the leading statesmen and orators of the country will be represented by their most talented men

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

Passage of the Last of the General Appropriation Bills.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Bland of Missouri to everybody's astonishment, did not do any filibustering when the house opened at 10 o'clock and several matters of minor importance were disposed of during the hour The house then went into committee of the whole on the Indian appropriation bill

The senate amendment appropriating $1 192 000 to pay the Seminole Indians for lands in the Indian territory ceded to the United States was agreed to The lands acquired 2 037 000 acres, are made open to settlement under the homestead law

Taking advantage of the five minutes' debate Kennedy of Ohio replying to the censures by Crisp passed upon his conduct as presiding officer of the Ohio senate rehearsed the history of the ballot box frauds in Hamilton county He defended his conduct in refusing to allow the four members of the legislature whose seats were contested to take part in the proceedings and said that such democrats as Thurman and Converse sustained his action which was in accordance with every parliamentary authority

A discussion followed concerning the merits of the contested election case of Sullivan vs Felton but no action was taken

An amendment was adopted authorizing the president to establish two land offices upon the lands opened to settlement by this act The committee rose and the bill was passed It is the last of the general appropriation bills Adjourned

IN THE SENATE

The Proposal to Amend the Interstate Commerce Law

WASHINGTON, Feb 27 —In the senate the conference report on the agricultural department appropriation bill was presented and agreed to

The senate bill to amend the law to provide better protection to the salmon fisheries in Alaska was passed

Platt from the committee on territories, reported two bills for the formation and admission of the states of Idaho and Wyoming

Hoar from the committee on privileges and elections reported an amendment to the deficiency bill which was referred to the committee on appropriations, appropriating $[illegible] 000 to enable the president to offer a reward for the detection and conviction of the persons who illegally carried away and destroyed the ballot boxes at Plummerville Arkansas It was the majority report a minority dissenting

On motion of Cullom the senate proceeded to the consideration of the senate bill to amend the interstate commerce law and to act upon the house amendments upon which the conference committee was unable to agree

Sherman favored concurrence in the house amendments One of them, he said, gave to the state courts jurisdiction, in certain cases on questions arising under the act. As to the other it simply made it unlawful for any common carrier to transport refined oils etc. for any shipper owning, leasing, or controlling cars tanks or cylinders except on condition that the railroad company shall charge the same rate per carload for transportation as it charges for oil transported in barrels He referred to the Standard Oil Company as a gigantic corporation which was not only able to buy cars but also to buy railroads He was in favor of the general principal embodied in the amendment that every railroad company should be required to furnish the same facilities and modes of transportation for all alike

Stewart opposed the amendments and Reagan supported them

Cullom made an argument against them He said that the amendment in relation to the cars for the transportation of petroleum, instead of carrying out equal and exact justice toward the people would enforce unjust discriminations When one shipper required a railroad company to furnish a certain kind of car and the company declined to do so and when the shipper furnished such cars for himself it did not seem to him that such shipper was required by common law or should be required by statutory law to supply the same facilities for all other shippers in the business

As to the other house amendment, relating to the jurisdiction of the state courts Cullom believed that the result would be that there would be different decisions on the construction of the national law He was anxious to go just as far as he could consistently with law the constitution and duty in protecting the people but he was not willing to go so far as to take a step of doubtful propriety Already the railroads of the country were suffering under difficulties which come not from interstate legislation not from any act of congress but from the conditions which had prevailed before the passage of the interstate law

No action was taken on the amendments and after the transaction of some other unimportant business the senate adjourned

THE GOVERNOR DODGES.

The Medical Bill Becomes a Law Without His Signature.

FULL TEXT OF THE MEASURE

His Excellency Longed to Take a Farewell Shot at the Bill But Concluded to Check the Veto Impulse and Trust to Luck

SALEM Or Feb 27 —Governor Pennoyer has decided to allow Pope's bill regulating the practice of medicine and surgery which he has had under consideration since the legislature adjourned to become a law without his signature

"The bill should really be vetoed " said he. "I do not believe in the clause of the bill which gives three examiners power to take a physician's diploma from him for unprofessional conduct when there is no provision which says what such conduct shall consist of However I shall try to obviate any difficulty by appointing as examiners men known to be cool headed and conservative "

The new law is aimed at quacks and quackery

Following is a copy of the bill

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon.

SECTION 1.—Every person practicing medicine and surgery, in any of their departments, shall possess the qualifications required by this act. If a graduate of medicine, he shall present his diploma to the board of examiners hereafter provided for for verification as to its genuineness If the diploma is found to be genuine, and if the person named therein be the person claiming and presenting the same, the board of examiners shall issue its certificate to that effect, signed by at least two of the members thereof, and such diploma and certificate shall be deemed conclusive as to the right of the lawful holder of the same to practice medicine in this state. If not a graduate the person practicing medicine in this state shall present himself before said board and submit himself to such examination as said board shall require, and if the examination be satisfactory to the examiners said board shall issue its certificate in accordance with the facts and the lawful holder of such certificate shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges herein mentioned.

Sec 2—The governor shall appoint three persons from among the competent physicians of the state, all of whom shall have been residents of the state for seven years, and of at least five years' practical experience in their profession, who shall be known as the "Board of examiners of the state of Oregon," one of whom shall hold his office for one year one for two years, and one for three years, and each until his successor shall be appointed and qualified and each year thereafter another commissioner shall be so appointed for three years, and until a successor be appointed and qualified. If a vacancy occur in said board, another shall be appointed as aforesaid, to fill the unexpired term thereof Said board shall elect one of their members secretary All certificates shall be signed by at least two members of said board, of whom two shall constitute a quorum to do business, and shall have power to make by laws and all necessary regulations for the proper fulfillment of their duties under this act

Sec. 3—The state board of examiners shall issue certificates to all who shall furnish satisfactory proof of having received diplomas or licenses from legally chartered medical institutions in good standing, of whatever school or system of medicine They shall prepare two forms of certificates one for persons in possession of diplomas or licenses the other for candidates examined by the board. They shall furnish to the county clerks of the several counties a list of all persons receiving certificates. Provided that nothing in this act shall authorize the board of examiners to make any discrimination against holders of genuine licenses or diplomas under any school or system of medicine.

Sec 4.—Said state board of examiners shall examine diplomas as to their genuineness, and if the diplomas shall be found genuine, as represented, the secretary of the state board of examiners shall receive a fee of $1 from each graduate or licentiate, and no further charge shall be made to such applicant but if it be found to be fraudulent or not lawfully owned by the possessor the board shall be entitled to charge and collect $20 of the applicant presenting such diploma The verification of the diploma shall consist in an affidavit of the holder and applicant that he is the lawful possessor of the same and that he is the person therein named Such affidavit may be taken before any person authorized to administer oaths and the same shall be attested under his hand and official seal of such officer, if he have a seal.

Graduates may present their diplomas and affidavits as provided in this act, by letter or by proxy and the state board of examiners shall issue a certificate as though the owner of the diploma was present.

Sec. 5—All examinations of persons not graduates or licentiates shall be made directly by the board and certificates given by the board shall authorize the possessor to practice medicine and surgery in the state of Oregon

Sec 6.—Every person holding a certificate from the state board of examiners shall have it recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county in which he resides and the record shall be indorsed thereon and a person removing to another county to practice medicine and surgery shall procure an indorsement to that effect on the certificate from the clerk of the county court, and shall have the certificate recorded in the office of the clerk of the county to which he removes, and the holder of said certificate shall pay to said clerk of said county the usual fees for making the record.

Sec 7—The county clerk shall keep in a book provided for that purpose a complete list of certificates recorded by him with the date of issue. If the certificate be based on a diploma or license, he shall record the name of the medical institute conferring it and the date when conferred. The register of the county clerk shall be open to public inspection during business hours.

Sec 8.—Examinations may be made in whole or in part in writing and shall be of an elementary and practical character, but sufficiently strict to test the qualifications of the candidate as a practitioner and for each and every one so examined they [the board of examiners] shall receive the sum of $5.

Sec 9—The board of examiners may refuse certificates to individuals guilty of unprofessional or dishonorable conduct and they may revoke certificates for like causes after giving the accused an opportunity to be heard in his defense before the board.

Sec 10—Any person shall be regarded as practicing medicine within the meaning of this act who shall profess publicly to be a physician and to prescribe for the sick, or who shall append to his name the letters M D but nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit students from prescribing under supervision of a preceptor, or to prohibit gratuitous services in cases of emergency and that this act shall not apply to commissioned surgeons of the United States army, navy and marine hospital service.

Section 11—Any itinerant vender of any drug, nostrum, ointment or appliance of any kind intended for the treatment of disease or injury, or who shall, by writing or printing or any other method publicly profess to cure or treat diseases, injuries or deformities by any drug or nostrum shall pay to the state a license of $100 per month, to be collected as provided for by law as all other licenses are now collected, and any person violating the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not to exceed $500 or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment

Sec 1 —Any person practicing medicine or surgery in this state without complying with the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and be punished by a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $500, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than thirty days nor more than three hundred and sixty five days or by both such fine and imprisonment for each and every offense and any person filing or attempting to file as his own the diploma or certificate of another or a forged affidavit of identification shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to such fine and imprisonment as are made and provided by the statutes of this state for the crime of forgery in the second degree, but the penalties shall not be enforced until a period of six months after the passage of this bill.

Sec 10—The provisions of this act shall not apply to those who are now practicing medicine or surgery within the state of Oregon, provided they shall within sixty days after the passage and approval of this act, cause their names and places of residence to be registered in the office of the county clerk of the county in which they reside, in a registry book there to be kept by said clerk, to be named a "registry book of practicing physicians and surgeons."

Sec. 14—Inasmuch as there is urgent need for the protection to be provided by this act, the same shall take effect and be in force from and after its approval by the governor

The clause which does not suit Governor Pennoyer is section 9 He thinks he has not done his duty in letting the bill become a law believing he should have exercised his veto power He conferred with many physicians before deciding to take the course adopted by him and found that the general opinion of physicians is favorable to the bill as it now stands.

Distress after eating and other dyspeptic symptoms are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

TOWAGE AT SAN FRANCISCO.

The Combination Broken and a War of Rates Started

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 27—When the Pacific Towing Company was absorbed by the Merchants and Ship Owners' Tow Boat Company a few months ago the latter company made a combination with Messrs John D Spreckels & Bros the agreement providing that the tugs of the two companies would not under bid one another when competing for outside work This agreement was kept inviolate until Monday when the tug Sea Witch, of the Merchants Towing Co hailed a ship and offered to tow the vessel into port for $80 Just at the same time the tug Active of Spreckles line came up and offered to tow for $75 The captain of the Sea Witch steamed away from the ship which was towed into port by the Active.

All the tug owners now say "Yes, a combination existed but it has been broken and now the business will be every man for himself"

A group of ship owners when talking of the change, stated that their tow boat work would now be done at much lower prices than formerly, and that a tow which formerly cost $150 would now be done for $100 or less

STRANGE ELECTRICAL PHENOMENON

A Little Boy Struck by Lightning From a Cloudless Sky.

LOS ANGELES, Feb 27—A strange phenomenon occurred near Ontario, in this county, Saturday morning Willie the 8-year-old son of James Vanwig a rancher started across an open field to join his father, who was at work Mrs Vanwig, sitting on the front porch watched the little fellow plodding across the plowed ground, when suddenly the eyes of the mother and of the father who had stopped work, watching the little boy coming were blinded by an indescribable flash of light. When they recovered their vision they saw Willie lying on the ground He had swooned and was badly injured His hair eyelashes and eyebrows were burnt entirely off His clothes were scorched and burned in places

He was resuscitated with great difficulty and has not yet entirely recovered from the shock His burns were very deep and painful There was not a single cloud in the sky at the time, nor any wind Electricity was undoubtedly the cause

THE S P. TRAIN ROBBERS,

Important Information Gathered Concerning Them—Hopes of Their Capture.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 27—The Wells Fargo Company's officials are yet without any late tidings from the train robber pursuers in Tulare county From railroad men and press dispatches comes news which gives hopes that the robbers will soon be captured

General Superintendent Fillmore of the Southern Pacific says that it is best to keep back at present some very important information regarding them, which has just been obtained He is perfectly satisfied that the robbers never stopped a train in this state before and he is equally positive that there are but two of them

The pursuers now number fully 150 men The sheriff of Stanislaus county is confident that he has found a warm trail

RICH GOLD FINDS.

New Mines in Lower California Yielding from $1 to $2 50 Per Pan.

SAN DIEGO, Feb 27—Considerable interest has been aroused here over gold finds in Lower California. A Union special from Ensenada says "The discoveries embrace a quartz lead and placer diggings Several parties have arrived here with large nuggets It is stated the people in the diggings are taking out from $1 to $2 50 per pan One large nugget, weighing $230, was brought in and sold by a miner named Gaskill. People are thronging from Ensenada and neighboring towns and many will go from San Diego."

RATES ON CANNED FRUITS.

Reduced to 90 Cents on Shipments to Eastern Common Points.

SAN FRANCISCO Feb 27—The Examiner to-morrow will say "The fight for a reduction of the canned fruit rate on the transcontinental lines was ended yesterday in a manner satisfactory to shippers and railroads The opposing factor the Texas & Pacific road consents to a reduction of the rate from $1 10 per 100 pounds to 90 cents on shipments from this state to all common points East having surrendered to-day and now the Transcontinental Association can formally announce the latter rate It will have the effect of saving to California fruit shippers between fifty and one hundred thousand dollars."

THE ROYAL WEDDING IN CHINA

But Little Interest in the Event Taken in Chinatown.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27—As regards the marriage of the emperor of China yesterday, it would seem that the Chinese of this city take but little interest in it. There is a great deal more concern expressed in Chinatown about the movements of the police regarding lottery and gambling cases than there is about the marriage of the emperor of the Chinese kingdom. Residents of the Chinese quarter do not seem to care whether their young emperor is married or not A few of the Chinese merchants express themselves as highly satisfied with the choice of the empress dowager, and think that everything political and otherwise will go on as usual in the celestial empire They seem to place great confidence in the judgment of the empress dowager and hope she will live many years yet to guide the young emperor until he has arrived at a seasonable age

The great body of Chinese though which make up the population of Chinatown are Americanized to an extent that they seem to care more for the standard dollar of our country than they do for the welfare of China or the domestic relations of its emperor

DESIGNS FOR COINS

American Money Deficient in an Artistic Sense

Philadelphia Record

Mint Director Kimball thinks that the designs of American coins are inartistic and he desires to have a change, as he believes that the coins of every great nation of the world surpass those of the United States in an artistic sense. A bill is now pending in congress, earnestly supported by Senator Morrill and the mint director which stipulates that there shall be a change in the style of coinage every twenty five years

"With the exception of the new 5 cent piece and dollar there has been no change in design for about forty years" said Charles L Barber, engraver at the Philadelphia mint, recently "It is perhaps, only natural that people should clamor for a new style but they will be very hard to satisfy if every new coin shall be subjected to as much adverse criticism as was heaped upon the new dollar and nickel piece It is a difficult task to make a proper design for a coin The most skillful artists and sculptors have submitted designs that are entirely impracticable owing to their imperfect understanding of the low relief which is an absolute necessity in coin designing The designer of a medal, which admits of high relief and statuesque figures is pretty sure not to succeed in designing a stamped coin

For this reason there is very little real competition in the designing of coins When the director of the mint advertised for new designs some time ago those that were submitted to him were most grotesque and ridiculous They were largely of the spread eagle order—a Goddess of Liberty borne aloft on a soaring bird surrounded by sky rockets shooting stars and fireworks galore It is a marvel that the director's desire was not altered through sheer disheartenment at these alleged artists' lack of esthetic culture

Of course America is not without artists who both understand the art of coin making and are gifted with true esthetic taste But the American designer is at a certain disadvantage because of the limitations imposed upon his work We have no heraldry in this country and the nature of the design required is so distinctly defined by law as to allow but little variation from one idea The European nations grant a much wider scope yet I cannot say that I assent to Senator Morrill's emphatic declaration of the immense superiority of their coins to ours"

The mint officials are loth to express any opinion about new coin designs that may appear antagonistic to the views of the director Superintendent Fox, however, said yesterday that he thought no change should be contemplated until suitable designs have been submitted for approval, He thought it would be a good idea to have designs submitted periodically, say every twenty five years, but he believed there should be no law that will compel a change unless such change be a manifest improvement

A Singular Accident.

Corvallis Gazette Joe Avery, the little son of Pun Avery who a short time since was brought home from Mt Angel school in Marion county, having been taken sick with brain fever, is in a critical condition On Sunday Dr Flint, who has been attending him, attempted to test his temperature by placing a small thermometer in his mouth. Joe being in a delirious state crushed the heat tester and swallowed all the mercury and a portion of the glass. The action of the mercury was soon felt, and the patient suffered terribly. On Wednesday he was thought to be a little better, and on Thursday was still improving, with a small chance for recovery.

PIGOTT FLED TO PARIS.

A Letter Received by the Times's Dublin Solicitor.

THE PAPER MAKES AN APOLOGY

Parnell Supplements the Disclosures by Declaring on Oath That the Letters Were Forgeries—Pigott's Whereabouts in Doubt

LONDON Feb 27 An immense crowd was present in the court room this morning when the session of the Parnell commission was opened Much excitement was manifest Parnell arrived at the court room early Attorney General Webster stated to the court that Shannon the Times's Dublin solicitor had received a letter to him from Pigott who is in Paris The letter was not in Pigott's writing Shannon immediately notified the Scotland yard authorities of the receipt of the letter The attorney general then read the letter It was dated Saturday at Paris and contained the confession of Pigott made to Labouchere on that day Pigott added that he desired to fully disclose that he fabricated the alleged facsimile of Parnell's letter published in the Times, and other letters he furnished that paper He denied being interested with the American Brotherhood after he sold his newspaper, the Irishman

He told Houston he found the letters in a bag but he fabricated them using the genuine letters of Parnell and Egan in copying certain words showing the general character of writing and tracing them against a window pane He afterwards destroyed the genuine letters The second batch of letters ascribed to Parnell were imitated from the fac-simile published in the Times He did see Breslin in America He admitted that Labouchere's account of the interview between them was in the main correct. The letter dated Saturday was enclosed in another letter dated Hotel Du Monde Paris Tuesday and saying "Before leaving the enclosed (the confession) was handed me having been left while I was out I will write again soon"

THE 'TIMES' REGRET

Attorney General Webster said everybody would agree that nobody could attach any weight to Pigott's evidence and it was his duty to ask the court to withdraw from considering the genuineness of the letters The Times he said desired to express regret for publishing the letters and the proprietors of that paper would themselves more fully express their regret later He repudiated the allegation made by Sir Charles Russell yesterday that there was a foul conspiracy behind Pigott and Houston If such a conspiracy existed the Times had no share in it It was an error of the Times and beyond that the court should make the fullest inquiry Sir Charles Russell said he had hoped the attorney general would make a stronger statement

Parnell was then sworn He denied signing the alleged letter of the 16th of May Campbell his secretary did not write the letter Witness hadn't heard of such a letter until he saw it published in the Times Campbell had gone to Antwerp to endeavor to find Pigott Parnell denied the genuineness of the letters purporting to have been signed by himself and Egan He said he and Egan had an extensive correspondence He dictated to Campbell the letter regarding an interview asked by Pigott. The letter which the Times reproduced was evidently imitated from it He had no interview with Pigott The court then adjourned until Friday

TO EXTRADITE PIGOTT

LONDON Feb 27 In the house of commons to-day Hon Henry Matthews secretary of state for home affairs, stated that the authorities were taking steps to secure the extradition of Pigott from Paris Matthews also said he had no information regarding Houston at present that would justify him in preventing Houston from leaving the country

Pigott's arrest in Paris is imminent but it is doubtful whether the French government will regard perjury as extraditable

PIGOTT'S WHEREABOUTS DOUBTFUL

LONDON Feb 27—The Times has withdrawn its advertisement of Parnellism and O Donnell versus Walter Applicants for pamphlets are informed that they are out of print It is doubted whether Pigott is in Paris as reported. The landlord of the Hotel du Monde says that he has not seen him The rumor is current that Pigott cashed a check for £25 in London yesterday morning

PIGOTT'S MOVEMENTS

LONDON Feb 27—It is believed that Pigott posted a letter to Shannon at the railroad station in Paris and then proceeded for either Spain or Switzerland It appears that Pigott obtained Monday from Sotherby's book mart a check for £25 in payment for a number of rare books Pigott had the check cashed that afternoon The last time he was seen he was walking on Fleet street An Englishman having the appearance of Pigott but who gave no name, arrived at the hotel De Monde Paris at 6 o clock Thursday morning After breakfasting he wrote a brief note on hotel paper, and enclosed it with other papers in an envelope upon which he wrote a London address He left again between 8 and 9 o clock

A crowd of friends besieged Parnell in the lobby of the commons to day Sir W B Bartelot, conservative, shook hands with Parnell Parnell as yet has come to no decision regarding his action but is determined to follow Sir Charles Russell's conspiracy suggestion

THE OPINION OF THE LONDON 'NEWS'

LONDON, Feb 27—The News says If anything could add to the degradation of the Times's avowal it would be the terms in which Sir Richard Webster made his so called apology For the credit of the bar Sir Richard ought to have refused to connect himself with such an ignoble composition If the bar cannot express its opinion of such behavior parliament must be invited to do so promptly

The Daily News says "The Times tried to destroy Parnell but Parnell has destroyed the Times Never again shall any man who respects himself read its base accusation without a smile or languid disgust The Times is no representative of the English press We do not hesitate to say that no other English paper would have been capable of engaging in the abominable traffic which has led the Times to such a dismal depth of infamy"

THE APOLOGY OF THE TIMES

LONDON Feb 28—The Times to-day in a leading editorial quotes in full the apology tendered by Attorney General Webster before the Parnell commission for the publication of the forged letters and continues "Having a desire to indorse every word of the foregoing statement moreover, Mr Parnell having, in the witness box stated that the letters are forgeries we accept in every respect the truth of that statement In these circumstances, we deem it right to express our regret most fully and sincerely for having been induced to publish the letters as Mr Parnell's or to use them in evidence against him"

The expression of regret includes also the letters falsely attributed to Mr Egan Mr Davitt and Mr O Kelly "It is scarcely fitting to enter into the circumstances under which we were deceived and publish them We are bound however to point out that Pigott was not the person with whom we communicated Moreover we must add that we firmly believed the letters were genuine until disclosures made by Pigott on cross examination It must be evident to all reasonable persons that if a conspiracy existed the Times was victimized by and was not a party to it Errors in judgment may have been committed and for them the penalty must be paid It must be clearly understood that what we have done is altogether upon our own motion and our own responsibility and in the public interest alone. This withdrawal of course refers exclusively to the letters obtained from Pigott"

PATRICK EGAN'S OPINION

LINCOLN, Neb Feb 27—Patrick Egan confirms the story of the discovery of Pigott's forgeries as telegraphed from London last night He says he has known him to be a forger and swindler for twenty years Egan believes that high government officials will be implicated in the plot

A Correspondent Blames His Countrymen for Their Samoan Policy.

BERLIN, Feb 27—The Deutsches Wochenblatt prints letters on the Samoan question from a correspondent in Sydney, New South Wales.

The writer blames the Germans for supporting Tamasese, who, he says, is neither by birth nor by intelligence acceptable to the Samoans as a ruler. Mataafa is far more intelligent and influential than Tamasese, who is regarded as a usurper and a traitor willing to sell his country to strangers Mataafa could formerly have been won to the German interests but being offended by the support given to Tamasese he fell an easy prey to American intrigues The writer asks if this pearl of Samoa is to be abandoned by Germany, and adds "The annexation of Samoa could formerly have been accomplished England would have protested only for the benefit of the gallery"

KLEIN WILL NOT BE PROSECUTED

The United States So Informs the German Government

BERLIN Feb 27 The government has received information from Washington that there is no prospect of the United States complying with the demand for the prosecution of Klein The emperor has issued a cabinet order expressing gratitude to the officers and men engaged in the Samoan fight

THE PANAMA CANAL CONFLICT

Arguments Heard by the Court of Appeals on the Rights of Jurisdiction.

PARIS Feb 27 The court of appeals has heard the arguments in the conflict between the civil tribunal of Seine and the tribunal of commerce in regard to their respective right of jurisdiction over the Panama Canal Company The civil court recently decided that the company was only subject to the civil law and thereupon appointed a liquidator

The contractors with unsettled claims against the company then brought suit before the tribunal The company pleaded that the tribunal had no jurisdiction but the tribunal recorded the claims of the contractors After hearing of the arguments indicated the court of appeals deferred judgment for a week

Panama Canal shares were offered at 40 to day with no buyers

ALIEN INVESTMENTS

Report of the Congressional Committee on Mines and Mining

WASHINGTON Feb 27—Senator Stewart chairman of the committee on mines and mining to day made a report on the resolution authorizing the committee to investigate the subject of the investment of foreign capital in the mines in the territories

The amount of capital invested in the mines in the territories by aliens as near as could be ascertained is $70 50[illegible] 570 and the dividends paid thereon have been $4,[illegible]57 809 The committee recommend that the alien land act be so modified as to permit foreign capital to be used in the development of the mines in the territories

BRIBED BY CATTLE MEN.

Indian Agent Owen Thinks Money and Whisky Were Lavished on the Cherokees.

WASHINGTON Feb 27—The report of Indian Agent Owen dated April 18 188[illegible] was sent to the senate to day in response to the resolution asking the secretary of the interior for information concerning the bribery of the Cherokee council by cattle men

Owen says he does not think there is any doubt about the fact that representatives of the Cherokee Strip Live Stock Association and their workers made a lavish use of money and whisky for the purpose of securing the lease of the lands

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

Affecting the Power of a Railroad to Make Indemnity Selections

WASHINGTON, Feb 27—An important decision has been rendered by the secretary of the interior in the case of the state of Minnesota against the St Paul Minneapolis & Manitoba railroad The secretary holds that a land grant railroad having branches can go upon any of its branches or main line to select lands to indemnify the company for losses of lands upon any part of its system This decision sustains the opinion of ex Secretary Chandler, rendered during Grant's administration

Restricting the Use of the Mails.

PROPELLED BY GAS.

A Novel Carriage Supplied With a New Motor

Glasgow Mail

Messrs Benz & Co, of Mannheim, have lately exhibited in Munich a motor of which gas is the propelling agency The gas is generated by the contrivance from benzine or analogous material The motor which is not visible from without is placed in the rear of the carriage which has three wheels over the main axle and the benzine used in its propulsion is carried in a closed copper receptacle secured under the seat from which it passes drop by drop to the generator and which holds enough benzine for a journey of about seventy five miles The gas mixture is ignited in a closed cylinder, by means of an electrical spark—a very safe and reliable arrangement

After regulating the admission of the gas the motor can be started by simply turning a hand lever The operator mounts the seat and by pressing the lever at his left sets the motor in motion which then starts the carriage being connected with the back wheels The speed can be regulated at will by turning the lever backward or forward and by pulling on the lever the motion can be completely stopped The vehicle is steered like a tricycle by a small front wheel Its greatest speed is about ten miles an hour A quart of benzine is sufficient for a one hour's trip the cost of the motor power being thus about 3¼ pence per hour The carriage intended to seat four persons and in appearance somewhat resembles an ordinary phaeton set on three wheels

A Story of Balzac

Stories about Balzac are now being told inspired by the present [illegible]. One relates that Baron James Rothschild once when Balzac was obliged to go to Austria advanced him 3000 francs and gave him a letter of recommendation to his nephew in Vienna The letter was unsealed and Balzac read it Finding it cold and apparently unworthy of him he never took it to the nephew When he got back to Paris he went to see Baron Rothschild "Well" said the latter "have you seen my nephew" Balzac proudly said that he had kept the letter "I am sorry for you" said the Baron "have you got it with you?" "Yes parbleu here it is" "Observe this little hieroglyphic below the signature It would have opened a credit of 25 000 francs for you at the Vienna firm" Balzac had nothing to say

EIGHT PEOPLE KILLED.

An East-Bound Train Plunges Through a Bridge.

MANY PASSENGERS WERE INJURED.

Large A[illegible] in Sale of Smuggled Opium—A Sheriff Killed and His Deputy Wounded—Natural Gas Explosion

ST GEORGE, Ont Feb 27 The St. Louis express passing here east bound this morning went through a bridge just east of the station A broken tire on one of the engine wheels caused the rails to spread and the first passenger car a Pullman car and a dining car went through the middle section of the bridge The Pullman car, which contained most of the passengers, was thrown clear off the bridge turning completely over and landing right side up The dining car stands on end against a pier A passenger car remained on the bridge. Eight or ten persons were killed and about thirty wounded persons have been taken out of the cars

The dining room car contained about seven persons besides the waiters Supper had just been announced and in a few minutes the car would have been filled and all must have perished

The following is a list of the killed George Leggett of Mitchell Wm Wemp, of London Dr Swan and a Mr Francis, of Woodstock McLain, of Detroit Mich, Mr. Barnes of Hamilton, Captain Moore, of Brantford and Mr Peers of Woodstock.

The injured number thirty, all of whom were badly shaken up and some have limbs broken None of them however, it is believed are fatally hurt.

St George near where the disaster occurred is on the Great Western branch of the Grand Trunk railway

The accident was witnessed by some of the townspeople The alarm was given immediately and in a few minutes there was a scene of the wildest excitement A conveyance was hurried to the bridge and the dead and wounded were taken out of the debris They were conveyed to hotels, private residences and the station house All of the doctors were soon on hand and attended without delay to the poor mortals who groaned and cried for help

The bridge which gave way was 100 feet high

SALE OF SMUGGLED OPIUM.

Thirteen Hundred Pounds Knocked Down at $4745

DETROIT Mich Feb 27—In the United States marshal's office here yesterday about 1300 pounds of prepared opium was sold to the highest bidder

Among the bidders were five Chinamen who had come from New York Chicago and New Orleans

This opium has had rather an eventful history It came from Victoria B C, and arrived in Sarnia last August and was seen there by a United States officer. When smuggled over the authorities were on the watch and seized it at Sand Beach Mich, after a fight Finally the drug was ordered sold by the court, and it was this sale which had attracted the Chinamen

A syndicate was formed with Hip Lung as bidder Hip jumped right into the breach and shouted $400 Hip looked as if he thought the opium should be knocked down right there but Marshal Pennel thought differently The opium was worth, at least, $10 000

Every second bid was made by Hip Lung, who grew more and more excited Assistant District Attorney Wilkins took a hand, Lung gazed wistfully at the marshal as the bidding rose

W J Scott representing a Portland, Me, firm got the opium for $4745

A SHERIFF KILLED.

The Brother-in-Law of a Prisoner Shoots Him and His Deputy.

WINONA, Mo, Feb 27—Sheriff Furley, of Carter county was killed and his deputy seriously wounded to day at Lowwassie The officers had arrested a man named Thompson for forgery when his brother-in-law, named Taylor came up and killed the sheriff and wounded the deputy with a revolver, The deputy shot and wounded Taylor, but he made his escape

NATURAL GAS EXPLOSIONS.

Five Buildings Wrecked and a Number of Persons Injured.

PITTSBURG, Feb 27—Two natural gas explosions in this vicinity within the last fifteen hours have wrecked five buildings and injured a number of persons one fatally and two others seriously They were caused by a break in the pipes

Canadian Extradition Bill.

OTTAWA Feb 27—In the house to-day Weldon explained the provisions of his extradition bill which enlarges the list of extraditable offenses The dregs of Mexico and the United States he said, are settling down in Canada owing to her geographical position It is within the power of the Canadian parliament to set in motion machinery which will drive out criminals who are enjoying an asylum here The bill was read the first time

THE WORK AT SALEM.

A Number of Glaring Errors Discovered in Several Bills.

THE MILEAGE OF THE MEMBERS.

Facts About the New Counties of Sherman and Harney—The Wagon Road Bills—A List of Special Acts

SALEM, Feb 27.—Secretary of State McBride will soon begin furnishing copies of the new laws to the state printer, and within the ninety days prescribed the book of session laws will be issued It will be from two to three times as large as any book previously issued for the reason that there are a great many lengthy incorporation and charter bills

Many of the enrolled bills have mistakes in them In the Strowbridge steamer bill the title is made to read "an act for the prevention of the entering and harboring," etc., instead of "an act for the enticing," etc. It is the opinion that this clerical error will not interfere with the working of the law in the least In the Miller bill for the protection of game the omission of the word first before "the day of August" makes it uncertain when the close season shall end Minor errors are to be found in many bills

The mileage of the members makes [illegible] big showing this year [illegible] can be seen by the annexed statement which includes travel [illegible] for committee work in addition to travel ing to and from the capital Two members, Senator Cogswell of Crook, Klamath and Lake, and his colleague Representative Moss had to travel through California on their way to Salem and on their return home. They are the only ones who had to leave the state to reach the capital

The legislature created two new counties Sherman and Harney, running the total number in the state up to thirty one

Harney county is attached to Grant county for representative purposes, and to Morrow and Grant counties for senatorial representation The county seat is temporarily located at Harney The matter of the permanent location of the seat will be settled at the next general election, and until that time not to exceed $500 can be expended for public buildings Harney county is attached to the sixth judicial district, and terms of the circuit court will be held on the third Monday in May and the second Monday in October Regular terms of the county court will begin on the first Monday in February April, June, August October and December The legal boundaries of the county are as follows: Beginning at a point where the west line of Grant county crosses the township line between townships 18 and 19 in said county of Grant and running thence east on said township line to the west line of the old Malheur Indian reservation in said county of Grant thence north following the west line of said Indian reservation six miles thence east to the east line of Grant county

Sherman county was named after General Sherman It was first proposed to name it after a man named Fulton a resident of the new county but when his record was looked into it was found that when he was a member of the house from Wasco county nineteen years ago he spoke bitterly about inviting General Sherman to visit the capitol so he was not honored

Sherman county was formed out of part of Wasco county and is attached to the eighteenth representative and the seventeenth senatorial and seventh judicial districts Terms of the circuit court will begin on the second Monday in March and the first Monday in October Terms of the county court will be held on the first Monday in January, April July and October The temporary county seat is Wasco

The boundaries of the new county are as follows Beginning at a point in the center of the main channel of the Columbia river opposite the mouth of the John Day river thence up the middle of the main channel of the said John Day river to the south line of township 2 south where it crosses the said John Day river, thence west along the said south line of township 2 south to the middle of the Deschutes river thence down the center of the main channel of said river to a point in the center of the main channel of the Columbia river opposite to the mouth of the Deschutes river thence up the middle of the main channel of the Columbia river to the place of beginning

The afternoon of the second Friday in April will be hereafter known as Arbor Day On that day the children of the public schools are required to assemble and go through the process of tree planting the object being to "stimulate their minds toward the benefits of the preservation and perpetuation of our forests and the growing of timber "

"An act to increase the efficiency of our common schools" is the title of a law for which Senator Tongue of Washington county is responsible It is based on the Emmett compulsory education bill which Governor Pennoyer vetoed two years ago but the objectionable features have been omitted The law is now in effect It requires all children between the ages of 8 and 14 years, to attend school twelve weeks in the year and eight weeks must be consecutive unless the health of the child prohibits or the child is taught at home or at a private school When a public school is not taught within two miles of the nearest traveled road of the residence of any person within the school district children are not liable to the provisions of the act Parents and guardians who neglect to send their children to school are subject to a fine of from $5 to $25 for the first offense and from $20 to $50 for the second

A law which is intended for a good purpose the extirpation of the noxious Canada thistle is now in effect It is made the duty of road supervisors to destroy the weed when they find it growing on public highways and county roads Upon receiving definite knowledge of the existence of the thistle the county court is authorized to appoint a commissioner to attend to the extirpation of it and to pay him $2 a day while he is employed Violations of the law by the thistle commissioner or road supervisor are punishable by a fine of from $50 to $100 Municipalities are required to enforce the law within their municipalities and if they disobey the state can recover by civil action anywhere from $50 to $500 In such a suit the district attorney if the state wins is entitled to a fee of $25 if the state loses his fee will be only $10

An act to prevent nuisances makes it a misdemeanor to put animal carcasses or deleterious substances into wells springs, brooks ponds streets alleys or roads and requires butchers to keep their slaughter houses clean Fines from $2 to $50 are provided for violations

Oregon now has a law to prevent the spread of contagious animal diseases It creates the governor secretary of state and president of the state board of agriculture a board of domestic animal commissioners with power to appoint a state veterinary surgeon The board has power to establish, maintain and enforce quarantine and sanitary regulations for the prevention and cure of contagious and infectious animal diseases of a malignant character

Hotel inn and boarding housekeepers will soon be protected by law against swindlers The Wait act gives them a lien on the baggage of guests who fail or neglect to settle up

A law which will in a measure, relegate the professional juryman to obscurity and give the sheriff a little more trouble in filling a panel is the one making it a misdemeanor for any person to ask to have himself or another to be put on a jury and for a sheriff or constable to obey such a request The maximum fine is fixed at $300 for each offense

According to the Barin act married women can petition the circuit court to set aside part of the earnings of their neglectful husbands for the support of themselves and their children and if the showing is adequate the court is empowered to make such an order

When the Wager act goes into effect county warrants must be canceled seven years after the date of issuance

Cogswell's bill authorizes county courts to declare unnavigable streams highways for the floating of logs and timber

The title of the new law framed by Senator Tongue is "an act to license stallions kept for public service in the stud and to provide for a lien upon mares and colts for stud fees"

A new law confirms the establishment by the national government of an agricultural experiment station in connection with the State Agricultural College at Corvallis

The law to cure defects in deeds provides that instruments signed by the grantors in due form shall be sufficient to convey the legal title to the premises therein described that judicial sales confirmed by the order of the proper court shall be valid, also sales made by executors and administrators

Contractors subcontractors and laborers, who have claims against [illegible] companies on contract [illegible] performed are given according to the Irvine law liens upon the property of the company for an amount not exceeding the contract price agreed upon

COMING ATTRACTIONS

[illegible] This company which appeared [illegible] New Market [illegible] five years ago [illegible] popular matinee commencing to-morrow evening. They have the usual donkeys and several [illegible] a double quartette of colored singers and two [illegible] interesting features in the [illegible] especially [illegible] Uncle [illegible] is a [illegible] the [illegible] United States [illegible] visit at [illegible] this season from the [illegible] many [illegible] this [illegible] sum of [illegible] present organization [illegible] has [illegible] been [illegible] known [illegible] goes [illegible] will be the usual large attendance at the New Park to witness this the greatest of all modern plays

A CELEBRATED COMEDIAN.—Mr J K Emmet the German dialect comedian, commences a three nights engagement at the New Park theater on Monday Mr Emmet and his play of "Our Fritz" is world renowned and will no doubt fill the theater to overflowing There will be no advance in prices The following is from the Boston [illegible]

The bright merry face of Fritz Our Cousin German appeared before the large gathering of spectators in the Boston theater last night and the clever good hearted German lad was again carrying on his honest ways. Emmet never seems to grow old His step is as light his voice is as gay and his face as young as ever In Fritz he has a part fully suiting him He is able to picture most excellently the noble man who sacrifices his own fortune that his brother may be happy with the wealth and who even gives up without a murmur to that same brother the girl whom he loves because he thinks she loves him. But when events bring round the happy settlement which everyone desires there is a feeling of pleasure to see our Fritz still unspoiled by prosperity

One forgives the eccentricity and incongruities of the play, because it gives a chance for Fritz to show himself in many colors. He is jolly and happy, he is sorrowful and downcast but at all times he is the friend of all and all are his friends. He sings that he sings are [illegible] small addition to the enjoyment of the auditors Pleasing in their melody they are still more captivating by the cheerful manner of their rendering, for Fritz dancing along the stage smiling and gesturing, as he warbles will carry any song home to his listener. He was the life of the play

IT IS CERTAIN TO BE BUILT

There Is Now No Doubt but the Astoria & South Coast Railroad Will Be Constructed

Mr Henry B Thielsen engineer of the Astoria & South Coast Railroad Company, was in the city yesterday on business connected with the company He says the road will without doubt be built The contract for clearing and grading ten miles from Skipanon to near the Seaside house was awarded yesterday to J R O'Neil [illegible] and H S Aiken secretary of the Portland Manufacturing and Paving Company Work is to begin Monday next, and the contract is to be completed [illegible]

The road will be standard gauge and laid with forty pound steel rails The company are now [illegible] for ties and are in negotiation for [illegible] This portion of the road, it is expected, will be completed in time to accommodate travel to the seaside

The commission has yet to approve the company's plans for the bridge across Youngs bay before work can be begun on this structure which will be a little over a mile and a half in length but it is hoped to have this done and the trains running into Astoria before the end of the season. It is safe to say that when that bridge is completed and the first locomotive runs into Astoria with her whistle screeching and steam exhausting from every pore there will be such a celebration as the city by the sea has never seen before

LIGHTNING CURES.

Three Prominent People Publicly Proclaim Positive Relief and Cure by Electricity

To Whom it May Concern: Through the testimonials which appear in almost every paper of the city praising Drs. Darrin for their skill in curing and relieving the afflicted who go to them I am happy to say I have at last found a road to health I have suffered for years with kidney complaint causing great pain in my back and extending down the sciatic nerve at times almost unbearable also loss of vigor energy and courage I had about given up that there was any help for me when I met Dr Darrin performing his lightning cures Now after a few weeks of his electro magnetic treatment I feel almost like a boy and perfectly free from pain and with a few more treatment I am confident he will make a perfect cure of all my sufferings If any one suffering from any curable disease will give the doctor a trial in my judgment you will be entirely cured I cheerfully recommend them to the afflicted Respectfully J W KEENEY

Remarkable Cure of Deafness

To the Public Having for several years been gradually growing deaf and in one ear very deaf and the other going the same way, after much hesitation, and without much faith of being helped, I called on Dr. Darrin Now after two weeks treatment my hearing was so far restored that I could hear plainly I attended church and the music and words came to my ears so plain and distinct that I was overjoyed and felt like a good Methodist would at a camp meeting just like shouting but knowing with what dispatch Oregon officials do business I kept still fearing they might have me in the insane asylum before night I shall ever feel that I owe Dr Darrin a debt of gratitude aside from the money value The doctor is at liberty to use this for the benefit of those who are afflicted

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, THURSDAY, FEB. 28.

A SHARP CONTRAST.

The president-elect has made his journey from Indianapolis to Washington in safety. Enthusiastic demonstration attended him all along the route. At Baltimore a tremendous crowd gave vociferous expressions to feelings of joy as the presidential train pulled out of the depot, the enthusiasm being in marked contrast with the feeling of the populace of that city when the train bearing the first republican president crept silently through it under cover of darkness, bearing Abraham Lincoln to his first inauguration. Scarcely, even by bringing the events of the 23d day of February, 1861, in sharp contrast with those of the 26th of February, 1889, is it possible to realize the change that has come over public sentiment in that time. The people of Baltimore, the aristocratic city of a border slave state, had been so vigorously plied with the dogmas of secession by the conspirators of disunion that their anger against the victorious leader had reached the fierce glow that presages mob violence. The story is a familiar one. Open threat had followed covert menace, And these, added to the fact that the officers of the city government were deep in the counsels of treason, led Mr. Lincoln at last, though most reluctantly, to assent to the advice of his friends, and pass quietly through the city a few hours in advance of his expected coming. He was censured for this by many of his friends who, as Mr. Greeley recites, "would have much preferred to form an escort of one hundred thousand armed men to see him safely through Baltimore than to have him pass through it clandestinely like a hunted fugitive."

That this act of prudence was well advised, however, was clearly demonstrated to the most sensitive of Mr. Lincoln's friends after the ferocious spirit of secessionism, then but dimly imagined, became thoroughly understood.

In comparing the recital of this hurried change of plan and silent passage through Baltimore by a president-elect, on the way from his quiet home in the capital of a Western state in 1861, to the greeting accorded a president-elect in the broad noon of a day twenty-eight years later, as he, also the choice of the republican party, passing from his home in a Western capital city to be inaugurated president of the United States halted a few minutes at the depot in that city, one is inclined to regard the former scene as a dark chapter in a troubled romance so dim, distant and unreal does it appear. The contrast is such as to reconcile the patriotic heart of the nation, as much as it is possible to effect reconciliation for the loss and horror of that long period of struggle and anguish, to the sharp conflict that settled forever the question of human slavery and rendered possible an era of good will that for many dark and stormy years was the forlorn hope of the republic.

CRIMINAL SELF-SACRIFICE.

Miss Flavin, a young English woman recently passed through New York on her way to the Sandwich islands, her mission being to nurse the loathsome lepers confined in the Malokai settlement established in 1865 to prevent the spread of the disease. She declares that she is urged to this work by a "spiritual ambition, that she expects to be contaminated when her time comes and go the way of all lepers and that she seeks no recompense save the spiritual comfort of doing for these miserable creatures what their loathsome condition prevents others from doing. There are several hundred lepers in the settlement at present, with no prospect of diminution of the number. The place is described as "a home of hideous disease and slow coming death, with which science has in despair ceased to grapple; a community of people socially dead, whose only business is to perish."

The young woman, full of health and vigor who voluntarily puts herself in the way of an infection so revolting may be possessed of a sublime courage, a spirit of noble self-sacrifice, but to the ordinary mortal, governed by natural common sense, and imbued with the idea that his own body is worth preserving from loathsome disease, the feeling that inspires her seems nearer akin to folly, than to any other sentiment.

An exhibition of self-abnegation so extreme as this is an argument, advanced unconsciously by the one who makes it, in favor of the only truly humane and merciful plan of dealing with persons thus hopelessly afflicted with a loathsome disease. Death is not to be dreaded for them, while certainly life, under the terrible conditions imposed by leprosy is intolerable. The only merciful way out of the difficulty will sooner or later be dictated by science and receive the acquiescence of true humanity. To allow a brute to live when life is a torture which only death can end is regarded as the extreme of cruelty, yet every effort is made to prolong the life of a human animal, that looks longingly, and intelligently toward death as the only possible escape from bodily conditions that are at once a source of exquisite misery to himself and of deadly menace to those who must care for him. The strictest orthodox belief can scarcely excuse this mistaken mercy in a plea for the human soul, since the literal hell that it has prepared for the unsaved would abate somewhat the agonies that prey upon the leper while in the mortal body.

THE OUTLOOK FOR 1889.

The winter of 1888-89 has proven in some respects remarkable and has no parallel within the memory of the oldest inhabitant. There was very little rain in January, and up to this last day of February there has been a month and a half of positively clear weather. In the two first months of 1889 people who wished could work out doors and scarcely lose an hour because of unpleasant weather. Farmers in the country complain that they cannot plow, as the ground is too dry. Wells are very low in the hills and the springs and streams are lower than was ever known for this season.

It has been a remarkably favorable time for tree planting, and no fruit buds have as yet swollen, to render any danger possible, except in the case of peaches, of which the early varieties show the pink of bursting buds, and it is possible an untimely frost may do them harm. Other fruits are as yet backward, and no ordinary frost can injure them. About six years ago March was very forward, and by the 1st of April many varieties of fruits were out of bloom and the young fruit had formed. That year March and April exchanged their characteristics, for March had all the attributes of spring—sunshine and showers—while April was transformed into March and was a month of prolonged rains that came in cold, bitter storms. The effect was disastrous on many orchards and there was an almost entire failure of fruit of some kinds throughout Oregon.

It is safest and altogether best for the farmers when seasons are natural through the year, but that does not always occur. If he knew that normal conditions could be depended on his life would be deprived of care and anxiety; but this cannot be known, so it becomes necessary to sometimes attempt to create conditions to assist nature in the case of unusual seasons. To this end he underdrains land that surplus water can pass off and leave the roots of trees the normal warmth of the soil instead of the cold chill of floods of water. The farmer and fruit-grower can do much to save his crops by creating conditions that will aid the efforts of nature.

The pastures are backward and grass is yet of little value. The warm sun to make grass grow will come in due time, but would have been disastrous to other interests had it come sooner. Winter wheat generally looks well, and promises a good yield. It is a well-known fact that good wheat crops follow a heavy snowfall and hard freeze. There has not been snow and frost, but the peculiarly mild winter carries a prospect for a heavy stand and a good growth. There has as yet been no freezing out of wheat in Western Oregon, and if any happens it usually occurs before March. The storms of March are sometimes unpleasant, but not often frosty enough to "spout" wheat.

All things considered our winter has been one of the pleasantest for the single item of weather ever known. December, January and February are gone, and winter, so far as the three specific winter months are concerned, is over; but March is sometimes a month that is trying to stock interests, and if there is a bitter March we may hear of severe losses on the ranges. The general report from the great range country was that the grass was completely eaten out during the summer and fall and stock entered the winter in poor condition. There has been no chance for improvement on their part and some districts report losses already. If the month of March does not strike the ranges with bitter storms stock may come out in fair condition. The outlook for farmers may be considered fairly good for the season of 1889. The dangers of winter are practically over and the spring time finds winter crops in good condition. If fall sown wheat realizes the prospect of very rank spring growth the farmer who has sheep enough to pasture it down will be fortunate. What the coming range of prices will be can not be foretold, but the world constantly has a heavier demand for breadstuffs, and the decided shortage of 1888 may not be fully overcome. Beef cattle will probably bring a better price, and the flow of immigration to our region must create an increasing home demand for products of the soil. Another year as good as 1888 will insure for Oregon a season of the most reliable prosperity.

The husband of the notorious Mrs. Reardon has applied for a divorce from his bibulous spouse on the just ground of gross and habitual drunkenness. They were married in 1871 and the only redeeming feature of the marriage is that no offspring resulted. The wretched woman would be an object of pity were she not above all things an object of disgust. The problem of what to do with her is a perplexing one. Every moral force in this community including the Salvation army, if it is proper to place this organization in this category has in turn tried to reclaim the miserable creature, and each has abandoned the task as hopeless. The divorce asked will of course be granted. There is no reason why it should not. "No children and no property" makes the case an easy one. The last condition is the usual one in such cases, but unfortunately for society, more unfortunate for the miserable victims of parental irresponsibility and vice the first, is most uncommon.

The Times-Mountaineer suggests that if the people of The Dalles wish to profit by the tide of prosperity that is sweeping over the Northwest, they must resurrect their Board of Trade. The suggestion is a good one. There is neither profit nor sound policy in waiting supinely for coming prosperity. There is something besides the simple possession of superior advantages necessary to attract men and money to any locality. Active and energetic business men in various towns and cities throughout the Northwest have discovered that this something is to let the wide world know, from a reliable source, all about their business resources, their commercial and manufacturing facilities, what the people have done, what they are doing and what they would like to do and see others do in turning opportunity into money. To neglect this is to drag along, comfortably it may be, and in true pioneer style, while places engineered by live business men forge grandly ahead.

After all the fuss made about wagon road bills in and out of the legislature, only $91,000 were appropriated to aid this special feature of internal improvement. This, the Statesman says, is $20,000 less than was at first reported. The people should be duly thankful for this mite saved, though it is saddening to think that one-half that amount would have made sundry land holders in a howling wilderness happy by the construction of a good highway between Medford and Jacksonville.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW SATEENS?

This season's styles in "Koechlin" Sateens are moving rapidly. Some of the pieces have been entirely sold out. Several very attractive new designs and colorings were added yesterday. The collection still numbers hundreds of pieces, and we doubt if there is any one whose taste can not be accommodated. Truly, it is rather early to buy Sateens and Ginghams, but it seems Ladies buy them now just because they cannot resist temptation, the patterns are so handsome.

A WONDERFUL MACHINE.—The enterprising firm of Zan Bros., who are always in the lead, have lately introduced steam-power and the most improved machinery into their extensive broom factory, which is the only steam broom factory in the Northwest. They have two of the lately invented machines for sewing brooms, each of which does the work of five men and does it much better than a man can. This broom-sewing machine is a perfect marvel of ingenuity, and consists of 400 separate pieces of iron, which work in perfect harmony with each other and execute their work to perfection. The inventor spent thirteen years in perfecting his invention. It is totally different from any other sewing machine invented, there being two needles, which work independently of each other, pulling their thread, which is cut to the right length, clear through the broom backward and forward each time. The introduction of these machines has afforded Zan Bros. great satisfaction, as it has enabled them to dispense with the services of nine Chinamen out of their factory and supply their places with two Americans. By the introduction of new machinery into their various works during the past year they have been enabled to give positions to nearly twenty white men which were before filled by Chinamen.

THAT COUNTERFEIT $100 BILL.—Investigation of the matter of the counterfeit $100 greenback mentioned yesterday as having been returned to Postmaster Roby by a man who took a letter from the postoffice belonging to another man of the same name shows that the $500 check contained in the letter was cashed at the Portland National bank, and not at the First National bank, as the payee imagined. The letter came from Des Moines and was received by a Scandinavian named Peterson. The letter was written in German and the fellow could not even read it. He knew enough to cash the check and had almost the entire amount of the money when the postal inspector called on him and advised him to return it to the postoffice. He swears that the bad bill is one which he received for the check, but of course there is a probability that he is mistaken. Inspector Bennett, of California, and United States District Attorney McArthur investigated the matter and arrived at the conclusion that there was no criminality in the matter and that they could take no action in it. Just how the man who has the bad bill is going to be made whole is a conundrum.

OUR SHEEP INTERESTS.—L. B. Frazier, a citizen of Polk county, who is an extensive dealer in sheep, was seen yesterday at the St. Charles hotel. On being asked what was the immediate prospect for his business in the Willamette valley, he said: "It is not so good as it has been, of course, during the last two months, but is very favorable for this time of year. This morning I brought 240 sheep from up the valley, with an average weight of 105 pounds each. We have always supposed that Eastern Oregon sheep were generally put in better condition for the market than those raised along the Willamette, but I am getting more and more out of the idea as I investigate the matter. For instance, down at the union yards, where I took my sheep, were some from that section of the country and they averaged ten pounds less each and were in, by no means, as good a condition. The market here is full, but there is a great demand on the Sound and at Victoria, and even farther up the coast, which is rapidly increasing, and is as yet solely supplied from the Snake and Willamette river countries and also Eastern Oregon."

BUTTER GOES DOWN.—Consumers of butter who have been paying 80 cents a roll for the gilt-edge Oregon article will be pleased to learn that there is a prospect for an immediate reduction in the price. Fresh California butter is selling here for 45 cents per roll and it is probable that there will be a reduction in this also, as a dispatch received from San Francisco last night says: "The butter market this year is phenomenal. It is not yet March 1 and the very choicest butter is down to 19 and 20 cents per pound, wholesale, and weak at that. Stocks are large and increasing, and the whole market is demoralized. To increase the weakness, the market is heavily supplied with Eastern butter, which is quoted at 10@13 cents." It is to be hoped that Eastern butter at 10 to 13 cents will not be "heavily supplied" here, for butter made at the East at this season must savor strongly of the lard barrel, and if it was made when the grass was green it must be rather old by this time. No one will growl at paying our dairymen 25 or 30 cents per pound for good, fresh butter, but 80 and 85 cents per roll is a little too high.

DISGRACEFUL VANDALISM.—Some contemptible vandals have been amusing themselves with shooting holes in the iron water tanks put up along the White House road by the Multnomah Driving Association to supply the sprinkling wagons, and by breaking down the pipes supplying the tanks. The driving association has expended a large amount of money in endeavoring to make this road a pleasant one, and as the public has been benefited by this it is not possible that any one can have any ill feeling in the matter. The injury therefore has not been done out of malice but by some thoughtless, reckless fellows who found in the tanks a shining mark and one adapted to their skill as marksmen, and so blazed away at them for the fun of the thing. The association have a clue to the identity of some of these funny fellows and if it is traced up they will probably find that the wanton destruction of property is no joke in this state.

A RUMOR POSITIVELY DENIED.—A rumor was in circulation yesterday to the effect that the operation of the lines of the Oregon Railway Company, east and west side, would be brought to a close in a few days. The reason given for this was that no decision was likely to be reached in the case of the Oregonian railway against the O. R. & N. Co., for a long time as Justice Matthews of the United States supreme court is sick and not able to deliver the decision he has prepared, and the case would therefore have to be reargued. Inquiry elicited the information that there was no foundation for these rumors. Even if Justice Matthews cannot deliver his decision there is no necessity for the case being reargued, and if any rehearing is necessary it will come off at once and there is no probability of the decision being long delayed. As to the suspension of business on the lines of the Oregonian railway, those who are in a position to know say that nothing of the kind has been contemplated.

WAS SENT TO HIS HOME.—Edwin Mixter, one of the charges of the Boys and Girls' Aid society, was yesterday evening sent to his home, in Helena, Mont., by Ira F. Powers. Edwin is a boy about 12 years of age, who was seized with an impulse to see more of the world, some five months ago. When he came to this city the Boys and Girls' Aid society took charge of him, and procured him a good home in the country, where he has been diligently at work until the present time. He now wants to return to his home and act the part of a man. His wish was gratified, for Mr. Powers got him a ticket and sent him off to his home last night. Being asked what he desired to do when he got home, Edwin replied that he would either go to school or take hold of some work. He has only attended school three years and is already in the fifth reader, and is remarkably intelligent for a boy of his age.

LIVELY ABOUT CHENEY.—Hon. D. F. Percival, of Cheney, one of the leading bankers and most prominent men of Eastern Washington, is at the Esmond. Mr. Percival reports great activity in railroad building in his section of the territory and is naturally very enthusiastic over the outlook in Cheney. The road from that town to the Big Bend country is now completed and is being operated as far east as Davenport, the present Western terminus. In connection with this line Cheney is promised connection at an early date with the main line of the Seattle, Lake Shore & Eastern railroad on the west and also with the Spokane & Palouse on the east. Mr. Percival expresses himself greatly surprised at the remarkably steady growth of Portland, and predicts a bright future for the metropolis of the Northwest. He returns home to-day by way of Tacoma and Seattle.

DRIVING THE DUCKS AWAY.—An old time resident of Sauvie's Island says the ducks and swans which frequent the lakes on that island are being harassed and driven away by night shooting. Every person on the island who has shooting to rent and every sportsman is interested in this matter; if it is not put a stop to, there will be no shooting there in a few years. No sportsman and no gentleman will shoot at night, as it is sure to scare the fowls away from any lake. This night shooting is done by poachers, sometimes by persons who have rented their lakes to sportsmen, who take every precaution to preserve the game by shooting at intervals and allowing the ducks to have some peace and comfort between spells. The only way in which to put a stop to this night shooting is to make a law forbidding it and then enforce it.

VETERAN FIREMAN.—A letter in reference to special rates East was received yesterday by M. H. Lucas, president of the Veteran Fireman's Association. It was written by Mr. Charles S. Fee, the general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific railroad, and stated that he had a special rate application for them before the proper officials and thought there would be no trouble in having it granted. The organization here is composed of those who have served as firemen for seven years or longer. They already have forty-three names on the list, of members who will take advantage of the cheap rates to attend the anniversary of Washington's inauguration which will take place in New York city April 30th.

A MILD WINTER.—The winter seems to have been uniformly mild all over the Northwest. Mr. A. F. Parker informs us that the mail over the Salmon river mountains between Mount Idaho and Warrens has been carried on horseback all winter, a circumstance which has only occurred once before—in the winter of '68—since the first settlement of the country. The greatest depth of snow in the mining camps of greatest altitude in Idaho will not exceed two feet, and the placer miners are almost willing to buy snow wherewith to furnish the water for their season's operations. In the placer mines water is king.

ALLEGED CATTLE THIEF.—Yesterday morning Acting Deputy Sheriff Al Fletcher arrived from Pendleton, having in charge Wm. Cooper, 28 years of age, wanted in Yamhill county for driving off another man's stock. Cooper, like all others who get into a similar scrape, alleges that his arrest is a mistake.

TENDER LEAFLETS.—The warm shower yesterday morning caused the willows about town to put forth tender leaflets and the elm trees to expand magnificent blossoms. A few more warm, soft days will make a great change in things.

CANVAS BACK DUCKS can be had at Malarkey & Co's, corner of Fourth and Morrison, the only place in the city. They also have some very fine [illegible]

DRUNK WITH HIS TEAM.—Shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon Officer Mott, together with [illegible], drove up to the police station with [illegible] a man who was so drunk that even the jolting over the rough pavement failed to arouse him from his stupor. The man was the owner of the team, and had been found in a helpless condition with his team on Front street, between Jefferson and Columbia streets. Four able-bodied officers carried him from the wagon in to one of the dark cells, where he was left to sleep off the effects of bad whisky. His team was taken care of by the officer.

"DAVID GARRICK" TO-NIGHT.—Almost every seat in the New Park theater has been secured for to-night's performance, "David Garrick," and the farce, "A Cup of Tea." The people taking part in both plays are among the most popular and well-known society people in the city, and their friends alone would more than fill the theater. When it is remembered that the object of the entertainment is to secure money for the Good Samaritan hospital, there can remain no doubt but that the New Park will hold the largest and most fashionable audience to-night ever gathered within its walls.

NOTHING BUT SMOKE.—About 9 o'clock yesterday morning a still alarm brought a part of the fire department to the corner of Second and Washington streets. The fire, or rather the cause of the alarm, was found in the office of Stott, Waldo, Smith & Boise, over the Vienna restaurant, where a faulty stovepipe had filled the room with a dense smoke. There was no fire, no damage and only a small scare. The stovepipes were righted, and the trucks returned to their sheds without having been brought into use.

IN A CRITICAL CONDITION.—Hon. J. C. Cartwright, who has been confined to his bed for over a year, took a turn for the worse yesterday morning and his case was considered very critical. He is well known throughout the state, having been a state senator, one of the Hayes presidential electors, collector of internal revenue in this city, and in various other ways in times gone by has he been prominently identified with Oregon and national politics.

ANOTHER STREET RAILWAY.—Mr. John Hill, of Walla Walla, was in the city yesterday and made arrangements to secure the rails for the street railway to be built in Walla Walla this season. They are to be steel T rails. There will be two miles of the road built this season to connect the two depots, race track and court house. Walla Walla is not going to be left in the march of progress by any town of her size in the Northwest.

GYMNASIUM OPENING TO-NIGHT.—The Y. M. C. A. gymnasium will open this evening for a new term, and the classes under training for some time without an instructor will be reorganized. Secretary Beers is corresponding with a gymnasium professor in the East and the prospects are that the association will soon have a regular instructor and consequently the scholars will be able to make more rapid progress.

HARD TO KEEP IN ORDER.—Complaint is made that it is impossible to keep the grounds and walks around the custom house, or the halls in the building, in a tidy condition on account of people coming from the postoffice scattering envelopes, circulars and other waste paper about. The janitor would be obliged to all such persons if they would carry their litter out of the grounds and throw it in the gutter.

SOME KIND OF A FLAW.—It is reported that there is some kind of a flaw in the high license law, and that it will be contested and probably defeated. Somehow it seems almost impossible to get laws of this kind passed without some defect in them. However, this one may stand the test.

HE HAS RESIGNED.—Mr. George W. Norris, for the past two years Indian agent at Lapwai, on the Nez Perce reservation, in Northern Idaho, has resigned and removed with his family to Massachusetts, the state from whence he came. The agency is now in charge of a special agent.

FUNERAL OF MRS. PHELPS.—The funeral of Nancy J. Phelps was held at the undertaking rooms of George H. Rivers, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A large number of friends of the deceased were present. The remains were interred in Lone Fir cemetery.

HELD TO ANSWER.—In the justice court Tuesday, says the Astorian, Charles Starr and Frank Starr were held in the sum of $500 each to appear before the next grand jury to answer to the charge of arson. The case of W. C. Bushnell was continued till March 4.

ON OFFICIAL BUSINESS.—Colonel Frank J. Parker, one of the commissioners of the school for defective youth, left for Vancouver yesterday on official business connected with that institution.

STEAMER FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—Steamer Columbia will sail for San Francisco at 8:30 P. M., to-day, February 28, instead of at midnight, as usual.

R. FELDMAN'S CASH GROCERY, 31 First street, corner Clay, is now selling butter at 25c, 30c, 35c and 40c a roll.

DEATH OF HON. JOHN C. CARTWRIGHT.

He Passed Away at His Residence Last Night at 9:30 O'Clock.

Hon. J. C. Cartwright died at his residence in this city at 9:30 o'clock last night after a long and serious illness.

He was a native of Michigan and was born in 1837. He came to Oregon in 1853, and read law with Hon. Joseph G. Wilson, afterwards representative in congress from this state. He was admitted to the bar in 1860 and opened an office at Salem. He was a member of the house from Marion county in 1864, and in 1866 was elected state senator from the same county.

In 1867 he received the appointment of United States district attorney. At the expiration of his term of service in this capacity in 1871, owing to failing health, he removed to Eastern Washington territory, and there engaged in the stock business until 1873, when he removed to The Dalles, and, in partnership with Hon. R. O Dunbar, resumed the practice of law.

In 1876 he was elected presidential elector on the republican ticket, and was a participant in the memorable electoral college of that year, when the late E. A. Cronin was so prominent a factor, and when Oregon's vote elected President Hayes. In May, 1877, he received his appointment of the position of internal revenue collector for the district of Oregon, which he held for several years.

Mr. Cartwright was a gentleman highly esteemed by all who knew him, and was regarded as a man of sterling integrity. He was tall and spare built, smooth face, save the mustache, sharp features, clear, peaceful eye and black hair. He was a warm personal friend, and one who never forgot a favor. He was courteous, genial and generous. As a public officer he was attentive, obliging and in every way efficient. He was married at Salem on Christmas, 1861, to Miss Mary Helm, only daughter of Rev. Wm. Helm, of the M. E. church.

A FOOL ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.

Another "Lover," Snubbed by His Mistress, Don't Care to Live.

About 12 o'clock last night Dick Timmins, a young man employed as a waiter in the Telephone restaurant, attempted suicide in his room over the restaurant.

He took a large spoonful of morphine, but as he is in the habit of using the drug it did not have much effect. He then tried to give himself a hypodermic injection of the same, but his nerves were not steady enough to allow him to accomplish it. He then stabbed himself five times in the center of the breast with a small penknife, inflicting five cuts in a circle about the size of a dollar.

When a reporter reached the place a doctor was sponging away the blood which oozed slowly from the punctures, while Timmins was explaining how he failed to finish himself.

The doctor had administered an antidote, and the fellow was apparently about as sensible as usual. He did not appear to be aware that there were holes in his breast, and said: "I tried hard enough, God knows, but could not get the knife through."

He was smiling as he talked and evidently thought he had done something smart.

When asked if he was not glad that he had failed he said: "No; I wish I had succeeded."

Then he laughed in a semi-idiotic way which made one sorry that he had not.

The doctor said that the knife had pierced the sternum in one place and just touched the lungs, which appeared to tickle Timmins.

When asked why he attempted his life he declined to give any reason and asked the reporter to please say nothing about the affair as there were so many who knew him.

Timmins came here from Tacoma about a week ago and went to work in the Telephone restaurant. He was, while at Tacoma, the lover of Bertie Robinson, the young woman who was shot by Jules DeRusey in a lodging house about two blocks distant several weeks ago, and where she is still, slowly recovering from the effects of the shot.

Timmins has renewed his acquaintance with the young woman since his arrival here, and last evening called upon her carrying the paper giving an account of the departure of DeRusey to serve a seven years term in the penitentiary.

His sad fate appears to have fanned into flame the smouldering embers of her love for DeRusey, and she quarreled with Timmins, who seemed pleased with DeRusey's misfortune, which was but natural, as he had won the girl's affections from Timmins and carried her away from him at Tacoma.

Timmins went back to his room and scrawled the following note to the young woman:

PORTLAND, Feb. 27, 1889.

Bertie Robinson—Dear Friend: I suppose this is the last time on earth I shall ever write to you, for you have deceived me, and I don't care to live any longer in this world. Try and give me a good burial. Good-Bye. DICK TIMMINS.

Then he swallowed his whole stock of morphine and made the five punctures in his manly breast, and after all could not die.

Prostitutes and lovers have been ridding the city of themselves at a rapid rate of late, and there has been but little loss to the community. The failure of Timmins to expedite himself may have a tendency to check this, which probably no one will regret less than himself.

THE TILLAMOOK TREASURE.

An Indian Tradition of Wealth Buried by Spaniards.

The Great Forest Fire of Forty-Nine—Mountain Land Good for Farms—The Washington County Jail—Eastern Oregon Jubilant.

In the early days of Oregon, when the Hudson Bay company controlled the commercial business of the northwest coast, with headquarters at Vancouver, and a branch store at Oregon City, Thomas McKay, son of a Hudson Bay man by a Red River Indian woman who subsequently became the wife of the philanthropic Dr. McLoughlin went over to the Tillamook country on a trapping expedition, as a servant of the above named company In his wanderings up and down the Coast range he found an aged Indian woman of the Tillamook tribe, who told him that she witnessed the coming ashore of the Spaniards, whom tradition credits with burrying a chest of treasure at the mouth of the Nehalem river The woman informed McKay minutely as to the place the treasure was buried and at his importunity went with him and pointed out the place she had described It was a rule of the H B Co that anything captured by a servant of the company became at once the property of the company and the officials of that then all powerful corporation, learning that McKay had been prospecting for the said treasure arrested him and subjected him to a rigid examination to make him disclose what he knew about it To all their questions and threats McKay returned but one answer "I did not find any treasure"

McKay afterwards settled on French Prairie, and some years later built a saw mill on Butte Creek on the present site of Scott's Mills, where he herded a large drove of Spanish cattle He sold many of his cattle to the immigrants for beef but he is credited with a big heart and early settlers say he gave away much more than he sold Many persons believed that McKay found the Tillamook treasure as he always had plenty of money and spent it lavishly He was a good man, and during the early days when the few Americans in Oregon were anxious to be included in the Union, McKay used to say to his Yankee friends "Well, boys we Americans have got to do something!" Though raised under the shadow and in the service of a British Trading Company McKay's heart was loyal to the United States, and his friendship for the immigrants and his many generous acts toward them, endear his name to the memory of every appreciative pioneer who knew him. Whether he got the Tillamook treasure or not will probably never be known, but it is quite likely that he told the correct story about the rather mythical treasure box.

Many old pioneers are just now engaged in furnishing the newspapers in the particular localities in which they reside with thrilling accounts of the "great fire of '49" when the whole country was ablaze, the sun was eclipsed by the smoke, and the streams ran dry.

M. Whitlock, of Silverton writes "Many persons thought the last day had come, on the 'red morning,' when the sky was lighted up with the glare of the burning shingle camps some fourteen miles above Silverton when John Hicks lost his wagon and a load of shingles, besides one of his horses by the fire, himself barely escaping with his life I also know of other instances where people were much alarmed by the falling ashes, the dense smoke and red morning sky On the red morning (I do not remember the date) I was on Howell Prairie going toward Silverton The smoke was so thick that I could scarcely see a rod ahead, and charred fern leaves that still retained their perfect shape besides a shower of ashes fell around me

"Samuel Allen who lived on the Abiqua told me that that creek not only ran with lye in 1849, but that it stopped flowing and there are many others who knew of the circumstance and talked about it at the time The tributaries of the Abiqua are all short and it receives very little water from the feeders on the north side, and with such a fire as the one of '49 on its headwaters it is not unreasonable that it might go dry That it did so I think there is abundant proof"

"It was the biggest fire the whites ever saw in Oregon During 1868 however, I witnessed another terrific fire on the Molalla There were four of us hunting in there at the time, and came near losing our horses The fire enveloped the green timber in a sheet of flame, and nothing could have lived within a quarter of a mile of it, so intense was the heat There was a strong breeze at the time I killed nine deer in a day and a half during the fire and never saw the sights on my gun at any time I fired We sat up all one night holding our horses and watching the fire from near Table Rock When we came out the ashes along the North fork of the Molalla was a net work of elk deer, bear and panther tracks on their way from the fire"

Mr Whitlock has a cattle ranch in the Cascade mountains, 30 miles northeast from Silverton, and he has been experimenting some with the growing of tame grasses on this mountain land and is prepared to assert that the soil of that district will make the finest growth of such grasses. Potatoes too, and many other kinds of vegetables do well in this mountain soil. It has been the generally accepted idea in the Willamette valley that mountain land was wholly worthless unless it might be for grazing purposes but within the next dozen years men will come to this state who are not afraid to wrestle with rocks and stones, and some of the finest farms in the whole commonwealth will be found on the mountain sides that line the entire length of the Willamette valley Apropos of this is the memorial to congress adopted by the legislature at its recent session, praying that body to set aside the summits and a goodly portion of their slopes also for a public park. It would be wise to wait before asking such a favor and see if the few years that are still to come in this country will not bring sufficient population into the state to make a portion of these land exceedingly valuable

Near Greenville Washington county lives Mr Prongua, a gentleman from the republic of Switzerland, and his three small children Mrs Prongua died about two years since and if Mr P had been the ordinary stripe of man he would have farmed the children out or put them on the county but instead of that he sticks right to his post of duty keeps his little family together works hard for their support has given up the luxuries of life, such as whisky and tobacco and is battling bravely for his little ones Of course this is no more than he should do but as he does it cheerfully and makes no boast of it it is worthy of notice

The Washington county jail cannot reflect much credit upon those who should maintain it if the Hillsboro Democrat the new and enterprising paper started in that section is to be believed It says "Two narrow cages, unfit for the occupancy of a brute, are all this county has in which to confine prisoners and here are placed men awaiting trial They may be innocent Witnesses may also be confined here whose misfortune it is to bear evidence in favor of the state But the cages are unfit for the confinement even of proven criminals. Torture and cruel and inhuman punishment have been abolished by law and it is nothing less than torture to confine a man in one of these dens for any length of time. The last prisoner's health broke down under such treatment, and the sheriff was compelled by the instincts of humanity to technically violate the law and allow him the liberty of the courtyard in order to prevent his death Grand juries have severely criticised the jail and it would be true economy for the county to build a new one"

Several years ago Governor Whitaker was president of the state senate A few minutes after that body had adjourned sine die Senator Birch returned to the senate chamber to get a book he had left there He saw Governor Whitaker sitting by the stove with a sad look on his countenance He asked the governor what he was doing there when the latter answered "Sir, the other fellows have stolen all the paper pens knives inkstands, waste baskets and spittoons There is nothing left for me to steal but the stove, and I am waiting for it to cool so that I can take it." Whether or not he took it is not known; but the story illustrates the manner in which things are carried away at the end of a session.

Umatilla county is jubilant over the success of its senators and representatives in securing for it the legislation of which its inhabitants are most desirous. In the first place Senator Paley's bill to appropriate $10,000 to build a wagon road from Pendleton to Canyon City passed both houses without much trouble, and became a law by the inaction of the governor All the people of Umatilla and Grant counties now have to do is to build the road and draw on the state treasurer to pay for it. Pendleton, too, will have the supreme court up there once every year, the first Monday in May

In New York city the goats of Shantytown eke out a precarious existence upon old tin cans and big circus posters with now and then a delicate morsel in the shape of a surreptitiously obtained pair of trousers but out in Yamhill county they fare much better, besides being put to heretofore unheard of practical use Franklin Yocum, who lives a few miles west of Sheridan has about five hundred of the Angora breed which he keeps for the purpose of clearing off land Of course it is not expected any one will believe that they really eat down tall timbers but their owner makes the statement that while in the matter of meat and fleece they are not a bad investment, their chief value is their assistance in clearing up and killing out young timber They keep the sprouts and buds so closely nipped that the stumps soon die and rot.

The farmers of Marion county evidently do not take much interest in the starting of a creamery at Salem, for there was none of them in attendance at the meeting which was called to consider the advisability of establishing such an enterprise there A new road is not always traveled even when it is a good one, for it is hard to get out of the old ruts

There are now thirty one counties in Oregon Each of the last three sessions of the legislature has added two to the number Grant county has been split in two about in the middle creating the county of Harney out of the south end and Wasco county gives up a portion of its broad acres to be hereafter known as Sherman county It devolves upon the governor to appoint a set of officials to fill the usual offices in these two new subdivisions of the state Candidates are already beginning to pour in their applications at the governor's office either personally or by letter The most prominent name mentioned for the office of clerk of Harney county is that of I B Baker a former resident of Baker county

THE LUMBER BUSINESS

The Cause of the Present Dullness in the Trade as Told by San Franciscans

SAN FRANCISCO Feb 26—The decision of the lumbermen of Seattle that they will ship no more lumber here until the prices at this point advance causes no apprehension in the minds of local dealers and consumers

Prominent members of the lumber exchange declare that the market is overstocked and that it will be some time before prices can be materially advanced

President Starbird states as the reason why the Seattle manufacturers prefer to keep their output at home that by selling their lumber at home they get at retail $12 per 1000 They can get but $12 wholesale by sending it to this city

"I attribute the present condition of the market to financial depression existing in the southern part of the state" he said "Lumber that has been going to Los Angeles and San Diego has begun to stop short at this city Our supply exceeded our demand and the natural result was a laxity in prices The lumber merchants actually sold at a loss and were obliged to make a slight advance in prices February 1 the price of lumber was advanced from $14 to $16 per thousand, so that our margin is very small All talk of a lumber trust is nonsense, and does us great injustice The price of lumber was advanced because we were unable to make a living It should be advanced to $18 a thousand but the condition of the market will not permit it"

Mr Smith junior partner of the firm of Moore & Smith blandly declared that Seattle was welcome to use all its lumber Better lumber than the product of the Seattle mills was easily to be obtained

"Lumber will be cheap in this city" said he "until our shipping facilities are increased Transportation is so high that we are shut out of the distant markets and are compelled to confine our trade to home consumers Give us more ships and that means lower transportation rates and we can send lumber to Australia and South America Our supply will then diminish and our prices will stiffen"

A BASE LINE ESTABLISHED

An Important Piece of Work by Professor George Davidson

SAN FRANCISCO Feb 26—Professor George Davidson of the coast and geodetic survey returned to this city Sunday after four months field services in Los Angeles county He went south with a large party of assistants to establish a base line in that region similar to that located some years ago in Yolo county The base line in geodesy is one actually measured from which all other distances in the survey are calculated and upon which all triangulation depends for accuracy The Yolo base is now used for all operations on the northern coast The line just located will serve as a check in possible errors in calculations from the Yolo base It will be of great value for surveying calculations especially on the southern coast

Captain Lawson of the coast survey made a general survey for the Los Angeles base some time ago and the present final line does not differ more than ten or fifteen yards at any point from Lawson's line

The party had four months very lively work but the results were most satisfactory Professor Davidson is confident that no divergence greater than one fourth of an inch in surveyed lines can be found

NEW PULLMAN PALACE CARS

A Large Number of Vestibule and Other Cars in Process of Construction

WARSAW N Y Feb 26 George M Pullman is building 107 new vestibule cars which when completed will cost over $1 500 000 The one half interest in fifty eight of the cars owned jointly by the Atchison Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad Company and the Pullman Palace Car Company has been purchased for $112 809

Sixty tourist or second class sleeping cars have also recently been purchased for the Atchison Company at a cost of $261 918 Twenty similar cars which the company have agreed to purchase from the Atlantic & Pacific will cost $97 000

A fourth interest in seventy similar cars has been purchased for the Union Pacific Railway Company at a cost of $70 000

Personal and General Notes

SAN FRANCISCO Feb 26—Dr J M Gilbert a former member of the Oregon legislature is down from his home in Salem accompanied by his wife and Eugene Breyman and Miss Lena Breyman They are at the Palace

O J White a real estate man of Tacoma is in the city

J I Atkinson of Portland and Judge J K Lewis of Seattle are at the Occidental

George H Smith junior member of the firm of Smith Brothers & Butler of Seattle accompanied by his wife is now visiting relatives in the city They will shortly leave for Los Angeles before returning to their home

The arrival of seven iron vessels chartered for wheat before arrival at 2 6d to 5s 6d above current spot rates is the leading topic in the tonnage market The large fleet just in leaves comparatively few vessels due and so the market for spot tonnage may be held at high rate before such arrivals and a possibility for improvement next month

Wells Fargo & Co officials are to day without any late news from the pursuers of the train robbers and presumption that the chase into the mountains will be a long one is confirmed The last information received came in a press dispatch telling of the presence of a pursuing party in the mountains about seventy miles west of Delano

G E Withington cashier of the First National bank of Portland and J P Howe, manager of the New Park theater are among the recent arrivals

William Hawley a mining man of Idaho and Captain F M Holmes of the steamer Umatilla, are here

J B Thompson of Portland is at the Baldwin

Mr Moody began a series of meetings at Stockton to-night

Captain W C Oliver, of the American ship Louisiana which arrived to-day from Cardiff, reports that on November 16, W D Cooper fell from the main yard arm to the deck, and was instantly killed

Evictions at Hawarden—The Political Leaders—Baseball in England

Literary Items—Patti to Come Again—Gloom About the English Court—Open Rupture Between Bismarck and Waldersee

The London correspondent of the New York Tribune who, it is probably unnecessary to remark, is no home ruler, no Gladstonian says "It is all but incredible but in these days it is mostly the incredible which turns out true Mr Punch may break his bauble he never produced a joke equal to this The enemy are in transports The Times itself is making jokes What is happening on Mr Gladstone's estate is with due allowance for the difference between England and Ireland exactly what has long been happening on Irish estates Tenants are in arrears they cannot or will not pay their rents and they are evicted sold up It is Mr Gladstone jr who does it His father says the Times by converting his interest into an annual charge upon the estate has made himself directly responsible for one of those arrangements so strongly condemned in the case of Irish landlords whereby the capacity of the limited owner to act generously is fatally curtailed

Young Mr Gladstone adduces in defense all those arguments which when put forward by Irish landlords his father and his father's following have received with scorn and derision These are the views of the enemy I hope to give you also those of friends but when I turn to the congenial columns of the Daily News will you believe it?—this most faithful of Gladstonian organs is dumb I can only say that so far as can be judged from published account the Hawarden evictions are just The evicted tenants have been kindly treated"

An Open Rupture

An open collision between Bismarck and Waldersee is anticipated over the artillery credits during the debate in the reichstag early in March The report of Waldersee now before the bundesrath demands a large extra credit Bismarck opposes the demand and Schellendorf sides with the chancellor denying that there is any necessity for the amount Waldersee recommends The emperor is undecided but he shows a tendency in favor of Waldersee

Whether the internal crisis bursts into an open rupture or not the fact is certain that the influence of Count Waldersee over the emperor grows while that of Prince Bismarck wanes. Count von Shellendorf's long-pending withdrawal from the war office will be hastened by the dispute The Waldersee circle announce that his successor will be General Kaltenboen Strachan

The resignation of Dr von Schelling Prussian minister of justice is also imminent He has compromised his position by an imprudent speech in the landtag and by want of judgment. In responding for the members of the reichstag when challenged by the progressist Hermes in the unterhaus regarding the Geffcken documents Dr Von Schelling had the imprudence to question the right of the landtag to interfere and referred them to his statements in the reichstag Progressist Munckel had the house with him in the vindication of the right of the landtag to demand explanations

The position of Herr von Scholz minister of finance is also shaken on account of the taxation proposals, which cause dissatisfaction to both the agrarian and industrial parties The Tageblatt ment on Herr Miquel as likely to be appointed finance minister

The French Election

Count Herbert Bismarck daily receives long cipher dispatches from the German embassy at Paris and goes personally to present them to the emperor If the foreign office officials faithfully reflect their chief's opinion the gloomiest view is taken as to the results of the French crisis General Boulanger is considered to be master of the situation It is probable that the pending arrangements for the autumn maneuvers in Westphalia will be changed so as to convert the maneuvers into a warning demonstration along the frontier The plans which have already been shown the emperor, include pontooning operations between Mannheim and Phillipsburg after witnessing which the Emperor is to fix his headquarters at Munster for the maneuvres of the Westphalian and Hanoverian corps The amended programmes fixes his headquarters at Mannheim The Wurtemburg and Bavarian contingents will share in the demonstration if it is decided upon The press of all shades of opinion take a pessimistic view of the outlook

The Political Leaders

The same correspondent says in his special dispatch of the 14th inst Mr Chamberlain continues his Scotch campaign His mission is to fan the flames of Scottish unionism or as home rulers would say to try to rouse its smouldering embers His speeches are at any rate full of fire He has not lost the secret of infuriating his opponent They burnt him in effigy at Dundee on Thursday night They would burn him in the flesh in Bouverie street if they could As they cannot, they roast him in print His challenge to the Gladstonian member of the Round Table conference to make public the proceedings of that singular body is not well received Mr Morley who is making as many speeches as Mr Chamberlain says everything must come out if anything a mysterious innuendo the meaning of which is left to conjecture Sir George Trevelyan too is among the orators He and Mr Chamberlain enliven the scene with unmeasured personalities Amid all this flow of oratory the cause of home rule stands apparently still

A Good Show Spoiled

The fiction that all members of royal families are closely related and should feel each other's griefs keenly a fiction which is strongly encouraged by Queen Victoria gives a gloomy look to things about the English court on many unnecessary occasions Just now a drawing room is coming on and young women English and American are desolated to learn that Empress Frederick will be with her mother and that therefore all ladies of the court and ambassadors' wives will be expected to display their still existing grief at the death of the Emperor Frederick by appearing in black Fortunately young women not sufficiently distinguished to belong to the immediate court circle will not be condemned to black, but can wear if no fresh royal death turns up the gay gowns which they have ordered A good part of the show however will be spoiled for them and they will lose an opportunity of seeing all the female royalties and their satellites in gorgeous attire

His Lordship

The Marquis of Ailesbury famous principally for cheating for his very large fortune and for having been ruled off the English turf has started in an attempt to get a divorce from his wife the Marchioness of Ailesbury The latter officially known as the Most Honorable the Marchioness of Ailesbury but more commonly spoken of by those who know her as poor little Dolly Tester has had a rough time of it since she gave up her position as a popular ballet girl to marry a peer It is possible that the marquis may have sufficient technical ground for a divorce but inasmuch as he married Miss Tester when though never married before she had two children and inasmuch as she has been much better in every way than he deserved it is not likely that he will find any judge or jury willing to give him an opportunity to begin life in an unmarried sense over again Such a case if brought to trial would be very interesting it is thought in England

Literary Items

John Lothrop Motley's correspondence edited by Mr George William Curtis is announced by Mr Murray for Wednesday next Should it happen to deal with the Grant episode, Mr Bancroft may find it interesting reading

A curious copyright story appears in the Athenæum This time it is an American author who is or may be the victim An American novel "John Ward, Preacher" the same which Mr Gladstone was asked to review but failed, is issued here by Messrs Longmans who pay Mrs Deland a royalty As no English copyright was obtained, the Canadian pirates, who publish the book in Canada, are trying to induce some English firm to enter in partnership in this piracy for the English market Two or three firms are said to have declined, but whether there is virtue enough in the English publishing trade to insure continued refusals is what remains to be seen

Baseball in England

The great American baseball team is exciting serious interest among Englishmen, and there is no doubt that the players will receive a hearty welcome in that country Already newspapers that go in for athletics are looking anxiously about for writers who know enough of baseball to report the game for them, and those who expect to come in contact with the players have been inquiring how they should be received namely as gentlemen or as professionals in the English sense of the term They have been told and have spread the information that the American baseballers are professionals who would decidedly expect to be treated as gentlemen and very important ones at that and that there would be trouble otherwise This advice has gone round and will probably be acted upon in a manner satisfactory to the players

Advices From Vienna

State that Herr von Tisza's position causes grave anxiety Popular feeling in Hungary threatens to overthrow the ministry leaving a way for the return of Count Andrassy with a foreign policy not in accord with that of Count Kalnoky's Tisza's fourteen years of service as minister do not count against the outcry which is now abusing him for passing the army bill If a collision resulting in bloodshed occurs between the troops and the populace at Pesth during to-morrow's demonstration against the ministry Premier Minister von Tisza's fall will be imminent The police officials have taken measures to prevent a procession but the opposition deputies have determined to march with flags and bands through the principal streets of Pesth and to assemble for the purpose of delivering addresses opposite the palace

A Less Scornful View

The North German Gazette to-day takes a less scornful tone It refers to the all absorbing interest of the forum and finds the explanation for the ferment of the press in the supposed semi official origin of the articles published in the Hamburg Nachrichten and quoted thence by the North German Gazette which gave unwonted prominence to said article The paper now declares that it was not written as was surmised by any one in Prince Bismarck's entourage Its suggestions that Count Waldersee would be the chancellor's successor in no wise emanated from the Wilhelmstrasse The conclusion drawn from these contradictions is that Prince Bismarck no matter what momentary inclination he may have had to withdraw from the worries of official life now means to cling to every post he holds"

His Powers Unshaken

Herr Fischer, a nationalist deputy, and the burgomaster of Augsburg has written a letter to the Augsburg Abendpost explaining what incited Prince Bismarck to warn the nationalists The national committee recently addressed to a number of members of the group a letter advising great prudence and reserve in the attitude toward the internal policy of the chancellor whose declining powers, said the letter became more and more apparent Bismarck got hold of a copy of the letter and raised a hurricane about it, blaming the committee for its treachery He would have disrupted the committee but he finally selected a line of action aiming to show the party that his powers were unshaken and that the country could not do without him"

An Important Result.

The discussion has had an all important result in revealing the expectations of the imperial circle regarding the government after the departure of Bismarck The emperor has not concealed from his intimate circle his conviction that Bismarck cannot be replaced When he chooses to retire the emperor will not appoint another Reichskanzler The emperor believes that he himself ought to exercise the functions of chancellor with a soldier statesman as adlatus The reference to a soldier statesman points to Count Waldersee concerning whom Prince Bismarck's organs continue to advise the nationalists to cultivate distrust The Trau schau wem proverb is thrust upon the government group as a watchword"

Nothing in It.

The public discussion of the probable results of a diminution of Prince Bismarck's functions has not produced that general alarm which it was hoped it would create so instructions appear to have been given to the chancellor's organs to minimize the importance of the current reports "There is nothing in it all" says the Cologne Gazette "At the best it is mere bierbank gesprache pothouse chatter The prince is well and possesses the fullest confidence of the kaiser No one in the country excepting perhaps Herr Richter thinks it will either displace or overthrow him No earnest political party would disturb itself by debating the chances of the chancellor's retirement"

O'Brien and Parnell

The Irish appeal court has decided that O'Brien shall stay in prison by rejecting the appeal against the judgment of the court at Carrick on Suir on the ground that he was condemned in his absence The higher court decides that magistrates were justified in proceeding with the trial the prisoner having voluntarily absented himself

Mr Parnell's health is slightly improved He looked pale in court on Friday but he says he feels better a slight touch of rheumatism in the shoulder being now his only trouble

More Visiting

The Emperor's programme is unsettled excepting a reception to King Humbert in May He desires to go to England prior to beginning the round of work involved in receiving return visits from the Czar and Emperor Francis Joseph and the Kings of Italy Denmark and Sweden The Schloss Friedrichskron where Emperor Frederick died is being prepared for the reception of the imperial family in April

To Be Married

That pleasant young man the Duke of Newcastle whom many Americans will remember from his recent trip to New York is to be married to Miss Candy on Wednesday at the Church of All Saints Margaret street It will be a very early wedding 9 30 o'clock being the hour fixed Two little pages will carry the bride's train of silver brocade and the wedding will be a fairly grand one

Patti to Come Again

Marcus R Mayer returned to London on Saturday it is said from Craig y Nos castle in Wales the home of Mme Adelina Patti Nicolini where he signed a contract with the diva on behalf of Mr Henry E Abbey for thirty performances in grand opera in the United States Canada and Mexico The tournee will commence the first week of December 1889 in New York

Minister to Washington

Vanity Fair reaffirms the statement that Sir Julian Pauncefote will be appointed minister to Washington The alleged official contradiction of his appointment was not official Sir Philip Currie who is now an assistant under secretary of the foreign office will succeed Sir Julian Pauncefote as permanent under secretary

Froude

Is writing a novel describing wild country life in Ireland a century ago Lord Coleridge addressing the Archæological Society describes Froude's history as a romance and says he is a brilliant and fascinating writer but that neither Oxford nor Cambridge include him among the authorities in history at the examinations

Tourists Living Home

SAN FRANCISCO Feb 26—Eastern tourists are beginning to leave the southern part of the state very rapidly Many of them are now in San Francisco on the way home The Rock Island will have an excursion out to-morrow of five cars Two of the five arrived from Los Angeles to-night and the other three came from the city and adjacent points An excursion last week carried out 140 people The Atlantic & Pacific had a two car excursion out to-night filled with Easterners who have been for the winter in San Francisco

WESTERN OREGON MINES.

A District 100 Miles Long, With a Score of Distinct Ledges.

Because the Gold and Silver Lies at Our Very Doors It Is Not Deemed To Be of Much Value

BROWNSVILLE Or Feb 26

The communication of Mr Harnett in your issue of the 21st inst concerning the mines of Southern Oregon is timely and every word of that article ought to interest the people of this part of Oregon for it applies equally to the whole state west of the Cascade mountains You cannot read a newspaper published in California Nevada Utah Montana Idaho Colorado or Washington territory but what you will find much news about mines while the papers of our own state as a general thing pay but little attention to this matter and in many of the above named states (especially is it the case in California) there is a state geologist to aid in finding minerals and to keep the people posted in this branch of the state's industry

In the states of California and Nevada the ores have been mostly free milling so that this matter of saving the precious metal was an easy one but when we go to Colorado Montana and Idaho we find that while the surface rock pays well to work by free milling as depth is attained the gold is not free but is mixed with base metals chiefly with sulphurets of iron and requires a different treatment than simply crushing and amalgamating In Blackhawk Colorado there are extensive quartz mines they were discovered by the gold in the creeks and canyons and then began a series of experimenting and failures for several years until they put in concentrators and saved these sulphurets and then they commenced to pay This same experience had to be gone through with in the large mines of Utah Montana and Idaho

AT BUTTE CITY

They used to work placer mines below in the gulches and ravines and even the surface of the ledges yielded free gold while now they are down hundreds of feet and the gold has nearly disappeared and silver lead and copper has taken its place and some of the largest and best paying mines in the world are being worked At the Big Camas mine, near Wood River Idaho in what is now known as the gold belt the ledge was very large and carried free gold on the surface and a party of Black hills men put up a ten stamp mill, which worked so satisfactorily that other claims were purchased by them and ten stamps more were added to the mill The ore milled $10 per ton right along and as fuel was scarce they hauled coal from the railroad They sunk down 200 feet on the ledge and found a fine vein of quartz thirty feet wide carrying heavy bodies of sulphurets of iron Assays ranged as low as $36 and as high as over $700 in gold and when a practical test was made by free milling process a ton just yielded $4 Concentrators were then added to the mill and they made the ore pay better than ever

As has been said many times before the streams of Western Oregon in the Cascade range from the Sandy on the north, to the California line on the south are full of fine float gold showing that this mineral belt runs across the entire state and by the slow disintegration or rolling of the ledges, all the streams and gulches of this range are supplied with fine particles of gold and every frost and every freshet is slowly but surely bringing the metal down

THE OREGON PACIFIC RAILWAY

In its Eastward course has at last reached this great mineral belt and has cut across one large ledge which promises good pay, in the Santiam district We are glad to learn this for it will be the direct means of proving the ledges in this great belt which is now tapped in only a few places viz On the headwaters of the Clackamas Calapooia and Blue and in the Bohemia district on the head of the coast fork of the Willamette on the line of Lane and Douglas counties Here we have a distance of something like one hundred miles long containing from twenty to thirty distinct ledges carrying more or less gold on the surface and flanked on the whole west by the broad and fertile Willamette valley and where but little snow ever falls and surrounded by forests of the finest timber and cut through by streams of water thus furnishing all the facilities and power needed for successful reduction of ores Many people are so blinded by prejudice in our midst that they cannot see anything favorable in this Cascade range of mountains—it is too near home Why only a couple of weeks ago a young man of this city who had spent some months in Butte City Montana came home and brought down some fine specimens of ore from those justly celebrated mines and in comparing these aforesaid specimens with some here brought from Blue River some people laughed at the idea of their resemblance and yet careful comparison show that the quality color and grain of the quartz is exactly the same—the same colored and shaped sulphurets of iron and the gold is the same only that the Montana rock is the richest ore the latter comes from the 1,200 foot level of the mine while the ore from the Cascades comes from a depth of about

THIRTY FEET BELOW THE SURFACE

We hear it said many times that there's nothing in these ledges because quartz mills were built a number of years ago at Quartzville and Bohemia and failed to make them pay Has there been no improvements in mills since those were tried? Has there been nothing learned about ores since that time? In 1860 the writer was in Nevada when the price of crushing ore was $30 per ton this did not include the extraction or handling Truly Mr Harnett makes the matter very plain when he says "If with proper machinery and appliances they can make $4 and $6 rock pay millions in Alaska and $4 in California what would the ledges of Oregon pay under the same conditions"

Mr H says it is estimated that the gold yield per ton does not reach $15 per ton The gold yield of several leading mines in the Black Hills, which were large producers only averaged from $4 to $6 while the Treadwell in Alaska which has the largest quartz mill in the world only pays from $4 to $3 per ton and many mines in California are about in the same scale

We have the necessary farming community at our doors to produce all the food supply we have the most favorable climate in the world for constant working we have endless supplies of the finest timber and everywhere fine streams of water furnishing power to run thousands of stamps or any other machinery required, and last but not least there are hundreds of thousands of tons of quartz extending the whole length of the Cascade range carrying the precious metal and only awaiting the hand of capital to unlock the immense wealth that lies hidden in their rock ribbed sides How much longer we shall have to wait is a problem that is hard to solve but we suppose when no more mines can be found in distant states and territories then and not till then will capital begin to look around home for investment

C W Ross a dapper young man who has been stopping in Astoria for several days says the [illegible] forged a check for $[illegible] on a party in Portland yesterday He presented it at the First National bank and Cashier Gordon mistrusting something was wrong, telegraphed to Portland for information The answer was so satisfactory that in less than half an hour Mr Ross who has several other names besides was behind the bars at the county jail His chances for a sojourn at Salem are excellent as the case seems to be a clear one

MORE ABOUT THE MADSTONE

SEATTLE W T Feb [illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In your issue of the 20th inst I noticed a published interview had between a M O correspondent and a Portland physician regarding the Madstone its properties etc The correspondent like many others would regard the story as fabulous

Concerning the formation of the stone I know nothing but I can and do confirm the physician's story as to the manner of its discovery division and properties

One of these parts is now and for years has been the treasured and valuable property of a family named Wamsley living at Cleves Ohio a suburban town of Cincinnati I lived in Cincinnati until last September, and personally know of the Wamsley family, of the wonderful stone, also of instances where it has been successfully used, even after the patient had begun to feel the approach of the dreadful disease, hydrophobia

The stone while not in use is pure white in color but when applied to a sufferer from mad-dog bite it adheres to the flesh until filled with poison which causes it to change to a green color and drop from the flesh It is purified by soaking in new milk I know of one case where it adhered for thirty-six hours in all to the unfortunate victim of a bite inflicted by a dog suffering from hydrophobia

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES

FOREST GROVE Feb 26

Mathias Cheldelin aged 14 of Nehalem valley who received such a severe injury by being struck with a maple limb above the left eye of whom prior mention was recently made in your paper died Friday the 15th inst and was buried Sunday the 17th Dr W Ward a surgeon at this place performed an operation for his relief He began to improve almost immediately thereafter so much so that the father owing to his impoverished circumstances (not feeling able to defray the expenses necessary to his remaining here) concluded to remove him home a distance of about fifty miles He began to grow worse after having traveled a short distance a conclusive fact that the jar and motion unavoidable upon traveling so soon after the operation, produced a severe inflammation of the brain and its membranes, which resulted fatally

A MATTER OF CHOICE

Dana of the New York Sun, was asked whether port wine did not bring on the gout He replied that he thought it did but that the man who would not prefer to suffer a few twinges of the gout rather than give up his port wine wasn't a man after his heart

Many things like this are a matter of choice and we really believe that we are justified in saying that those who will not, in the face of the testimony which we can offer, try ATHLOPHOROS when they have Neuralgia or Rheumatism really choose to keep the rheumatism rather than alter their opinions

AN APPEAL
To one suffering with Consumption ought not to be in vain for it is a characteristic of this disease that hope is the last thing to die
Just make a note of this Dr J H. Schenck was confined to his bed in 1835, with
"INCURABLE CONSUMPTION"
And yet he got thoroughly well by a treatment of his own discovery and never had any return of the dread disease. The remedy used under that treatment has now been used over 50 years and is known as
SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP.
JULES M. ROYALL, No 8 Burgess Street, Providence R. I while perspiring at his work, over the forge caught a heavy cold, which terminated in a well-defined case of Consumption. He was cured by Dr Schenck's Medicine. He says "I owe my life to you."

FLOUR—Receipts for the past week have been but 4126 bbls, against 4230 bbls for the week preceding; 2590 bbls came from the valley and 1496 bbls from Eastern Oregon. The local market is in sympathy with the wheat movement, but as yet prices have received no new advance. We quote: Standards $4 50, other brands $4.

OATS—Receipts for the past week 2550 ctls, considerably lighter than they were a week ago. The market is dull and heavily stocked, though prices remain about the same. The movement is slow and awkward, and though freely offered, few sales are taken. We quote 30@32c.

MILLSTUFFS—The receipts for the week have been 1551 ctls. The market is very firm, with a good chance for higher prices, the demand for all kinds of feed being good, while the receipts are very light. The market is healthy in spite of the weakness in wheat and flour. We quote: Bran, $17; shorts, $18; chop, $18@21; ground barley, $24@25 per ton.

VEGETABLES—The market is fairly active, the demand being good for what little is in season. Quote California cabbage 2c, turnips 75c a sack, carrots 75c a sack, celery 80@85c per dozen bunches.

POTATOES—Receipts for the week 644 sks. The market is heavily overstocked, and the export demand has been light, making together a very weak market. We quote 30@35c per sack and weak.

ONIONS—The market is very dull and declining. The demand is light at the same prices as before. We quote 70@75c.

GREEN FRUITS—Receipts for the past six days have been 511 boxes. The market is active with a brisk demand. Apples continue scarce and are eagerly looked for. There has been another advance in oranges. We quote, apples, $1@1 25, with $1 50 paid for choice, per box; bananas, $3 50 a bunch; oranges, Navals, $5 per box; Riversides, $4 25, and Los Angeles, $2 75; lemons, $6.

BUTTER—The market is weak and unsteady, but prices have not declined since our last report. The receipts for the past week have been 50 pkgs. California butter continues to come in large quantities, and still continues to be the cause of the decline in prices. Quote fancy creamery and choice dairy 25c, good to fair 17½@20c, common 12½@15c. Eastern butter displays no new feature, prices ranging from 20@22c, California product bringing the same, 20@22c.

POULTRY—The market is amply supplied, and while not being overstocked at present, one day's heavy receipt would do it, and knock prices down. The receipts for the past week have been large, ducks particularly having come in large quantities. We quote chickens $6@6 50, firm; turkeys, 16@18c per pound; ducks, $7@9; geese, $9@12.

EGGS—Receipts for the week, 467 cases. The market has been improving for the past few days, but as yet no advance has been made. Eggs have ruled for the week at 13c but there is a strong chance for an advance, say to 15c. We quote closing price for the week 13c.

HOPS—The receipts are nil for the week. We quote choice 13@15c, good to choice 10@12c, medium 8@10c.

WOOL—Receipts for the week have been light, only 85,574 lbs. The market still favors growers and is strong, though quiet and dull, owing to the light demand for woolen goods. We quote prices for the local market, Eastern Oregon, which is scarce, choice 15c, heavy 8@11c, valley, of which there is none is worth 18@20c. A Boston trade circular says: The demand for Eastern Oregon has been of moderate proportions. In all 110,000 pounds have found a market at prices ranging at 18@20c. Some small sales of Washington territory have been made at the same figure; this wool shrinks from 65 to 70 per cent.

HIDES—Receipts for the past week have been 19,800 pounds. The market is weak and heavily stocked and gives every indication of increased stocks and decidedly lower prices. River Platte hides have been offered in New York during the week for 15c with no takers. We quote: Dry hides, selected prime, 9@10c; green, selected, over 55 pounds, 4c, under 55 pounds, 3c; sheep pelts, short wool, 30@50c; medium, 60@80c; long, 90@$1 25; shearlings, 10@20c; tallow, good to choice, 3@3½c.

HAY—The market is over loaded. Receipts for the week 40 tons. Baled brings $13@15 per ton, loose $12@14.

DRIED FRUITS—The receipts for the week have been light, only 81 pkgs, a decided falling off from last week. The market is heavily stocked, and is dull. We quote: Sun dried apples quarters 5@6c, sliced 6@7c, bleached Plummer dried 7@8c, unbleached Plummer dried 6@7c. Oregon prunes, Italians 9c, silver prunes 8c, petite 7@8c, German 6½@7c. Pears, Plummer dried 8@9c, sun dried 7@8c, factory plums 8@10c, peaches 8@10c. Raisins $1 75@2 25 a box. Smyrna figs 14@15c, California figs 8c per pound.

PROVISIONS—The market is weak in both Oregon and Eastern meats, and tends to lower prices. Eastern meat is so much lower than Oregon that it makes sales very light. We quote: Oregon meats, hams 12½@13c, breakfast bacon 13c, sides 11@11½c, shoulders 10½@11c, lard 10½@11c, Eastern hams 12@13c, breakfast bacon 13c, lard 10@10½c.

CONDITION OF TRADE.

The New York Shipping and Commercial List of recent date has the following on the condition of general trade:

Continued activity in nearly all the speculative markets for produce, with a sharp reaction in the value of wheat, irregular fluctuations in the stock market and a moderate amount of business in distributive markets have comprised the prominent features in commercial and financial affairs since the early part of the week. The flurry in wheat early in the week, that ran the price in Chicago up 4 or 5 cents per bushel, was entirely the result of manipulation based upon a prospective squeeze in May options, but the soda water character of the flurry seems to indicate that if any deal was in progress it has been already liquidated. As pointed out in our last issue, the statistical position of wheat is not favorable for a repetition of last September's experience. Flour stiffened up in sympathy with wheat and then dropped back again. The surface appearance of the stock market has reflected some irregularity in fluctuations and an unsettled feeling for Granger stocks, but an undertone of strength still prevails, and several of the special stocks that have recently attracted attention have shown a further advance. The demand for bonds has continued fairly active, with prices firmly maintained, notwithstanding that there has been considerable realizing of profits on the recent advance. Financial affairs continue in good shape both here and abroad and loanable funds have been available at the low rates previously quoted. The distributive movement of general trade has shown further improvement in several departments and a more cheerful feeling has prevailed respecting the outlook. Seasonable winter weather has continued to benefit trade in many ways, and this fact no doubt accounts to some extent for the improvement during the early part of the week. The demand for dry goods has continued fairly active, with a further accession to the number of buyers that have been in town from southern points, and cotton fabrics have ruled firmer, while woolens are a shade easier. There has been no improvement in the general condition of the iron industry. A fair amount of business in both crude and finished iron has been in progress, but increased production and the consequent competition and eagerness to sell has a depressing influence and prevents consumers from stocking up beyond to cover their absolute wants. The accumulation has been chiefly in forge iron and lower grades are the weakest, while prime foundry brands are held with a good deal of steadiness. Steel rails are dull and nominal, the demand having been quite small, but the mills in operation seem inclined to compete for orders very closely, and sales are said to have been completed at $28 90 at Eastern mills, which, if true, is the lowest price ever made. The prospect that new railroad construction during the current year will be of moderate proportions, imparts rather a discouraging aspect to the outlook. The only new feature in the metal market has been the decline in lead and the erratic fluctuations in tin. In both instances increased offerings and pressure to sell has been the depressing influence. In the grocery market there has been an improved demand for raw as well as refined sugar, and the market is firmer. The bulk of the Louisiana crop has been marketed and absorbed by consumption, and hence dealers have been obliged to seek increased supplies of Eastern refined. The refineries have shown more disposition to stock up with raw material, and the improved demand has developed the strong position of the world's visible supply. The coffee market is still being held up by the manipulation of the bull clique here and in Europe, in which they are fortunately assisted by the bullish character of the crop news that is received from Brazil. A further concentration of the available supply of tea in first hands has stiffened the market for all grades.

THE WOOL MARKET.

The Boston Wool Report, speaking of the tone of the wool market, says:

The demand for wool has been fair and the transactions of all kinds for the week past amount to 2,022,100 pounds. In the tone of the market here there is no change to notice. Holders are very firm in their views and will sell desirable wool only when current quotations are named by buyers. The advices from London continue of an encouraging nature, an active demand prevailing there, with the tendency of prices upward. It was reported in the public cables from London that 7000 bales had been bought for the United States, but importers here doubt the correctness of these figures and say that no such amount has been purchased by the American buyers. Manufacturers here are buying freely of the Australian wools now on the way and claim they can do better in regard to price than at London. The position of wool has not been injured by the failure in the trade reported this week. It was not brought about by the state of trade and in reality had nothing to do with the wool trade, except that several dealers are losers to the tune of some thousands. No other important failures are likely to follow. The movement this week has been largest in fine washed fleeces, for which the market is very firm. Several large transactions are reported in unwashed combing wools, but as a rule the sales of all kinds of wool have been confined to small lots, for large lines of desirable wool are scarce. The tone of the market is quiet and steady and but few of the large manufacturers have shown any interest. Inside quotations are perhaps more readily accepted than previously, but this is usual in the case of a dull market. Really choice wool is scarce and will bring full prices, as may be seen by the detailed sales given below.

In the woolen goods trade there has been no improvement to notice. Clothing woolens have been meeting with a fair sale, and while no special activity is reported the best makes of cassimere suitings and worsteds are well under contract. Light weights are pretty well distributed. Flannels are taken in small lots, with no change in prices. Blankets hold a strong position, as manufacturers keep closely to orders and there are no surplus stocks. Carpets are not selling as well as expected from first hands and prices are on a low basis compared with the cost of wool.

The Merchandise Market.

The local market has been active in all branches. The continued warm weather has brought around a kind of advance spring trade, which has been eagerly accepted. Sugars alone are particularly worthy of mention. They suffered a decline of ⅛c on all grades on Saturday last. This is the first movement in sugar for over a month, Jan. 19 being the last day when there was a change. The produce market is in a fair position, except for heavy stocks. Eggs have strengthened and are firm at 13c per dozen. The San Francisco Commercial News in its weekly review says:

J. W. Harrison's weekly coal circular reports as follows: During the week there have been the following arrivals: From Great Britain and Australia, 8628 tons; from the coast mines, 11,121 tons. The late arrivals have not been excessive, still values have been further disturbed during the week, principally for domestic grades. The main cause of this was a reduction of $3 00 per ton to the trade by the Wellington colliery, being a fall of 25 per cent., which decline has to be relatively followed by imported coals. This shrinkage of values was not looked for before spring, as the reduction will not make any perceptible increase of consumption during the winter months, and works a serious hardship on some of our jobbers who are carrying full stocks of high cost coal. The continuance of this dry weather for a week or more longer will materially diminish the offerings of foreign coal, as the outlook for high outward grain freights from here is much more discouraging than a month ago. A decline in future grain freights calls for a relative advance in coal for future loading.

A private circular contains the following: Salmon operations this week have aroused general interest as their magnitude has surpassed any previous experience in this sensitive article. Over 550,000 cases of futures, or nearly $3,000,000 of salmon have been placed. The movement started in Victoria, British Columbia, where it is reported Welsh, Rithet & Co., placed with Pelling, Stanley & Co., Liverpool, about 75,000 cases of British Columbia salmon. During the early part of this month nearly the whole of the British Columbia pack was sold, the movement aggregating 200,000 cases. Sales of British Columbia fish may be divided as follows: To English buyers, cases, 95,000; San Francisco buyers, for English and Australian account, 95,000. The high price of Columbia river then attracted attention to Alaska fish, and a very spirited demand set in. As a fair indication of the magnitude of the transaction, we would say that we placed ourselves, as brokers in five days of last week 158,000 cases of Alaska salmon.

In addition to these sales, two local brokers have placed 30,000 cases of Alaska and a prominent Chicago operator, has purchased for Eastern sale 75,000 cases, making the total movement of Alaska fish 258,000 cases. We have a number of sales now under negotiation. To recapitulate, sales of future 1889 packing of salmon:

	Cases
British Columbia	190,000
Columbia River	100,000
Alaska	263,000
Or a total of	553,000

Or about one-half of the total packing of last year. The feeling of the trade is buoyant.

THE LOCAL MARKET.

PICKLES—Weaker. Quote 3s, $1; 5s, $1 10.

COAL OIL—The market is firm. Quote ordinary brands 24c per gallon.

BEANS—The market is firm and shows a rise in small whites. We quote: Small whites, $2 75; pink, $3@3 25; bayos, $3; butter, $3@3 25; limas, $4 50 per cental.

SALT—The market is very firm, and gives every indication of being under complete control by the salt trust. We quote: Fine Liverpool, $20, $21 and $22 50; stock salt, $10 50@11 50 per barrel.

RICE—The situation remains unchanged. The market is firm at the same quotations as last week: China No. 2, $4 50; Island, $5 50.

COFFEE—The market is steady and displays no new feature of interest except great firmness. Quote: Arbuckle's roasted 24½c, Java 25c, Costa Rica 20c, Rio 20@21c, Salvador 19c.

SUGAR—The market is steady and has experienced no change for the past week. We quote: Golden C 5c, extra C 5⅝c, dry granulated 6⅝c, cube, crushed and powdered 6⅞c.

CANNED GOODS—We quote: Table fruits, 2½s, peaches $2@2 25, Bartlett pears $2, plums $1 75 strawberries $2 50, raspberries $2 50, blackberries $2, cherries $2@2 50, assorted $2, assorted 8s $8 00 per dozen. Pie fruit 2½s, peaches $1 25@1 30, plums $1 25, blackberries $1 50, assorted $1 25@1 30, assorted 8s $3 75. Tomatoes 2½s $1 15, firm, 8s $3 25. Sugar peas $1 20@1 30; string beans $1@1 25.

CORDAGE—The market is very strong: We quote: Manila rope, 2¾ in. circ. and upwards, 17c; 1½ to 1¾ in. circ., 15c; 12 thread, ⅜ diameter, 15½c; 6 and 9 thread, ¼ and 5-16 diameter, 16c; Manila bale rope, in coils or on reels, 15c; lath yarn, tarred, 14½c.

THE MEAT MARKET.

The meat market is firm. The long continued warm weather keeps the receipts of live stock lighter than is usual at this time of year. Prices on both live and dressed meats show an advance from last week's report. Receipts for the week have been: 43 head cattle. Quote:

Beef—Live, 4c; dressed, 8c.
Mutton—Live, 4c; dressed, 8c.
Hogs—Live, 6c; dressed, 7@7½c.
Veal—6@8c.
Lambs—$2 50 each.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—Produce receipts past 24 hours included 101,000 ctls wheat, 8600 bbls flour, 255 ctls oats, 3000 ctls barley, 230 sks potatoes.

Freights—The spot market has exhibited more activity, but rates are weaker. Charters for Cork, U. K., Havre, or Antwerp are the wooden ships E. B. Sutton, 1758 tons, and M. P. Grace, 1863 tons, at 32s 6d; and Henry B. Hyde, 2463 tons at 35s; Br sh McFarlane, iron, 1509 tons at 36s 3d; Br bk Albert William, iron, 493 tons, owner's account.

Wheat—The sample market is firm, with a good shipping and speculative demand; offerings are more liberal; No. 1 shipping quotable at $1 43¾@1 45. Options are a shade easier. Sales of No. 1 white, buyer year, included 100 tons at $1 51¼, 700 tons at $1 51, 200 tons at $1 51⅛, 300 tons at $1 50⅞, 400 tons at $1 50¼, 400 tons at $1 50¼, 300 tons at $1 50½, 500 tons at $1 50; buyer season $1 47¼. Afternoon session—Buyer year opened $1 49¾; closed, $1 49½; buyer season, $1 46½.

Barley—Trading quiet, but prices rule steady at 81¼@82½c; receipts increasing; options are dull; buyer season, 84⅛c. Afternoon session—Buyer year, 94c; buyer season, 84⅛c.

Oats—Dull with a poor inquiry; quote feed of all kinds, $1 00@1 10.

Potatoes—Receipts light and stocks being worked down enable prices to hold steady at 75@85c Burbanks; 45@50 Garnet Chile.

Millstuffs—Quiet; unchanged.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKET REVIEW.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—Talk about a dry season is no more heard since the copious showers of Saturday and Sunday last.

Wheat is firm and options have advanced slightly during the past two days. The appreciation is due to the increase in the number of chartered ships that will require wheat, and to a slow but continued advance abroad. The rain had no effect on the market. There is a considerable disposition to do business, and four vessels were chartered yesterday to load for Europe.

Oats are quiet and unchanged, and any diminution in the stocks is at once replenished from Oregon and Washington.

The hop market shows no change from last week, except that real choice hops are in still better demand, but, as there is very little of that class of goods here, the market is quiet.

Wool is very dull, and, as California descriptions have been cleaned out of the market, the assortments are now limited to Oregon clips of last spring. The forthcoming clip will arrive on a practically bare market.

There is no spot supply of good canned salmon in first hands worth talking about, but 550,000 cases of the coming season's pack have already been sold to Eastern and English buyers at $1 27½@1 32½ per dozen for Alaskan, and $1 60@1 70 for Columbia river fish. So many vessels have sailed for Alaska with canning supplies that the success of all of them is problematical.

The recent demand originated in British Columbia, and it is reported that the whole of this pack has been closed out. No such demand for salmon for future delivery has ever been seen on this coast, and it is reported that a great part of these purchases of 550,000 cases have already been resold.

Lumber quotations are undergoing some revision, although there is no pronounced tendency, either up or down, excepting in lath, which has been marked up.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Wheat receipts past twenty-fours at seven primary points, 208,000 bushels, shipments 126,000 bushels.

Wheat opened easier, $1 07⅞ May, 94c July. Noon, $1 07½ May, 93⅝c July. Closing, $1 03¾ February, $1 04⅛ March, $1 07 May, 93⅝c July.

Provisions—Pork, $11 15 March; lard, $6 75 March; ribs, $5 90 March.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Cattle—Receipts, 10,000; steady; beeves, $3@4 40; steers, $3@3 60; stockers and feeders, $2 15@3 35.

Hogs—Receipts, 31,000; steady; mixed, $4 40@4 65; heavy, $4 40@4 75; light, $4 40@4 60.

Sheep—Receipts, 7000; steady; natives, $3 50@5 10; Western corn fed, $2 50@4 80; Texans, $3 25@4 25.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Grain freights by steam to Liverpool 4d per bushel.

Wheat, easier; $1 00¾ May and June, 96½c July. Closing, 97⅛c February and March, 98¾ April, $1 00 May, $1 00⅛ June, 96⅛c July.

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Hops—Steady; quiet.

Coffee—Options steady. Sales, 30,750 bags; March, April, and May, $16 30@16 40; spot Rio, firm; fair cargoes, 18½c.

Sugar—Raw, strong; fair refining, 4⅝c; centrifugal, 96 test, 5 9-16@5⅝c; refined, in fair demand; steady.

Copper—Nominal; Lake, March, $16 60.

Lead—Quiet; barely steady; domestic, $3 72½.

Tin—More active. Straits, $21 50.

Bar silver—93⅛c.

Petroleum—Opened firm at 92⅛c, and closed weak at 91⅛c.

Mining quotations closed: Amador $1 50, Bodie $1 50, Caledonia (Black Hill) $2 75, Consolidated California & Virginia $8 87, Commonwealth, $5, Eureka $5, Mutual $1 40, Plymouth $10, Savage $3 40, Sierra Nevada, $3 40, Silver King $1, Sullivan $1 45, Union Consolidated $3 85, Yellow Jacket, $4 55.

Spring Disorders

Shattered nerves, tired brain, impure blood, debilitated system, all are the natural outcome in the Spring. A medicine must be used, and nothing equals Paine's Celery Compound. We let others praise us—you cannot help believing a disinterested party.

Brigadier-General W. L. Greenleaf, Burlington, Vt., writes: "I have used Paine's Celery Compound on several occasions, and always with benefit. Last spring, being very much run down and debilitated, I commenced taking it. Two bottles made me feel like a new man. As a general tonic and spring medicine I do not know of its equal."

"I have used two bottles of your Paine's Celery Compound, and it has given entire satisfaction as an appetizer and blood purifier."

T. L. BERNER, Watertown, Dakota.

Paine's Celery Compound

is prescribed by physicians, recommended by druggists, endorsed by ministers, praised by users, and guaranteed by the manufacturers, as a spring medicine which will do all that is claimed for it. Use it this spring, and see how quickly it tones you up.

Purifies the Blood.

Full accounts of wonderful cures made by Paine's Celery Compound after other medicines and the best physicians had failed, sent free. There's nothing like it. $1.00. Six for $5.00. Druggists.

THE OLD VETS IN COUNCIL.

Second Days' Proceedings of the Department Encampment G A. R.

Election of Officers—The Installation Ceremonies—Next Place of Meeting—Resolutions—Camp-Fire—Woman's Relief Corps.

At 9:30 o'clock A. M. yesterday, the Eighth Department encampment, G A. R. of Oregon, met.

The reports of officers and committees having been read and disposed of, the annual election of officers was proceeded with.

DEPARTMENT OFFICERS ELECTED

The result of the election was as follows

E. B. McElroy, of Sedgwick Post No 10, Salem, R. B. Tuttle, of George Wright Post No 1, Portland, and Jas. A. Varney, of Jas W Nesmith Post No. 32, The Dalles, were nominated. A ballot resulted in the election of Comrade McElroy.

Comrade E. Martin, of Sumner Post, East Portland, No 12, was elected by acclamation senior vice department commander. Comrade J. L. Carroll, of Kit Carson Post No. 23, Pendleton, was also elected by acclamation to the office of junior vice department commander. Dr J. W. Haines, of G K. Warren Post No. 21, North Yamhill, was elected medical director, and C. L. Fay, of George Wright Post No. 1, department chaplain. Comrades D. C. Sherman and D. W. Matthews, of Sedgwick Post No. 10, Salem, were appointed by the department commander-elect, as assistant adjutant general and assistant quartermaster general, respectively.

The council of administration elected were J A. Sladen, of Garfield post No 7, Portland, S. B. Ormsby, G. H. Thomas post No. 11, Silverton, F. M. Parvin, Sedgwick post, No. 11, Salem, F. M. Garrison, Baker post No. 8, Marshfield, N. K. Rankin, George Wright post, No 1, Portland.

E. G. Hursch, of Reno post No. 29, Roseburg, and J. E. Lombard, of George Wright post No. 1, were elected representatives to the national encampment. The alternates to same are E W Moss, of Lincoln, No 4, Portland, and J A Straight, of J W Geary No 7, of Eugene City.

One hundred and eight votes were cast at the election, a larger number than ever voted at any previous encampment.

JOINTLY INSTALLED

The department officers-elect together with the department officers of the Woman's Relief Corps were jointly installed at 2:30 P. M. by the installing officers of each organization.

NEXT ENCAMPMENT

The next encampment was, by vote, fixed for February 12, 1890 (anniversary of Lincoln's birthday) at Eugene City.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

Resolutions were adopted as follows:

Resolved, That this department protests against the use of Memorial Day for excursions from points where G A. R. posts are located, but that said day be observed by the usual exercises prescribed by the G A. R.

Resolved, That this encampment condemn the removal of any old soldier by any political party for political reasons, from office and this encampment asks for the restoration of any such soldier to the office from which he may have been so removed, and that copies be sent to the state's representatives in Washington.

VOTE OF THANKS.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the O. R. & N. Co., the Southern Pacific Co. and Oregonian R. R. Co., for reduced rates of fare granted members of the encampment and Relief Corps.

A vote of thanks was passed to the managers of the Cyclorama company for the reduced rates of admission to members to view the painting of the battle of Gettysburg.

THE ATTENDANCE.

The encampment was more than usually well attended, scarcely a post unrepresented, and full delegations came from many. Harmony and enthusiasm marked the proceedings. The reports of officers were full and satisfactory. At 4:30 P. M., Department Commander Borthwick resigned the gavel to Commander McElroy elect, who in a few well chosen words closed the eighth annual encampment.

WISE SELECTION OF OFFICERS

The comrades of the department are to be congratulated on the selection of officers, the office of department commander being the most important, it was conceded that either of the candidates named for that office would have filled it with honor and credit. The choice of the encampment was pleasantly acquiesced in by the other candidates and their friends. The other officers elected are old G. A. R. men, most of whom have heretofore filled positions of responsibility and honor in the order.

G. A. R. CAMP FIRE.

The camp fire last evening given to members of the encampment and relief corps and their friends was a great success. The joint hall of post and corps was densely packed with Grand Army folks.

A pleasing programme was presented by the joint committee from the three local posts, as follows

Address of welcome, Comrade H H Northup.

"Women's Relief Corps," Comrade E. G. Hursch.

Recitation, "Searching Among the Slain," Miss Rankin.

Recitation of Captain Jack Crawford's poem "Weeds of the Army," Comrade Will T. Boyd.

"Department Commanders," Comrade F M Johnson.

"The Army Mule," Captain W B Humphrey.

Piano solo, Miss Pinkie Sears.

Short remarks were made by Comrade Edwards, of California, and Maxwell, of the Oregon legislature.

Commander McElroy then introduced the daughters of the encampment.

Lunch being announced, a delegation of comrades was detailed to hand around the feast, then indulged in, not hard tack and coffee, the soldier's ration, but cakes, coffee, sandwiches, cream rolls, etc., after a full and free discussion of which the camp fire adjourned.

WOMANS RELIEF CORPS.

The annual convention of the Womans Relief Corps department of Oregon closed their labors contemporaneously with the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The attendance was large and the work of the corps as reported by the department officers for the past year showed that much progress has been made in their field of labor.

ELECTION.

The following officers were elected: Department president, Mrs. Julia Abraham, senior vice president, Mrs. Hessie Shone, junior vice president, Mrs. Bettie Ware, secretary, Mrs. Jennie Stanton, treasurer, Mrs Clara Fullerton, chaplain Mrs. Mary Ellis; counselor, Mrs Sarah E. Miller, inspector, Eliza Wooden, instituting and installing officer, Mrs. Fannie Lounsbury; executive board, Mrs. Mary J. Irvin, Mrs. Irena C Parker, Mrs Sarah E. Adair, Mrs Huldah S. Miller and Mrs. Mary C. Rodgers.

ARRIVAL OF M. F. MULKEY'S REMAINS

Meeting of the Portland Bar to Show Respect to the Memory of the Dead Attorney

As was announced in yesterday's OREGONIAN, a large number of prominent attorneys met in Judge Shattuck's court yesterday morning to make arrangements for the reception of the remains of Marion F. Mulkey, the well known Portland attorney, who died in Oakland Cal. Monday last.

The request of Judges Shattuck and Stearns met with a general response, and the following members of the bar met in the room to take suitable action to show their respect to the memory of the departed: C M Idleman, C J McDougal, J M Bower, C B Bellinger, T A Stephens, Joseph Simon, A H Tanner, W B Gilbert, John M Gearin, S. B. Harrington, J C Moreland, Richard Williams, J. F. Watson, Fred Strong, E. Mendenhall, R. F. Jouly, A. F. Sears, Jr., S. H. Greene, J W Whalley, John Catlin, W W S. Eberso, H. E. McGinn, Alex Bernstein, J F Booth, William Foley, G. W. Yocum, Gilbert McKinn, Sidney Dell, F. B Williams, John Birdburn, Raleigh Stott, Ira Jones and H. H. Northup.

As a committee to receive the remains of Mr Mulkey at the depot of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, Judge Shattuck appointed the following gentlemen: C B Bellinger, Richard Williams, J F Caples, T A Stephens, H E McGinn, R Stott, G W Yocum, John Catlin, J C Moreland and T H Strong.

A committee to draft suitable resolutions will report at some future meeting to be called by Judge Shattuck.

The train, bearing the remains, that were accompanied by Mrs. Mulkey and Judge Caples and others who had gone to meet them at Oregon City, was behind time. It was nearly 12 o'clock when the train pulled up to the depot in East Portland. The committee appointed by Judge Shattuck was present to receive the remains and escorted the hearse to his late residence on the corner of Mill and Tenth streets. The funeral will be held at the residence at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

LETTER FROM JOHN F MILLER

He Makes a Statement in Regard to Certain Charges Against Himself.

LINKVILLE, Or Feb 2.

To THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In THE OREGONIAN of a very recent date I noticed the following paragraph in the court proceedings:

In the United States circuit court yesterday the suit of the United States against John F Miller was dismissed. Some months ago suit was brought against Mr. Miller to compel him to remove certain fences, inclosing 440 acres of public land in Klamath county Oregon. Some time last summer Special Agent Brockenbrough was ordered to re-examine the case. An arrangement was effected by which Miller removed the fences referred to and hence the attorney-general, at the suggestion of the secretary of the interior, ordered the suit to be dismissed.

To the above charge, Mr. Editor, I answered under oath to the complaint alluded to that I had never fenced any government land. If that testimony was false, late Agent McCormick, Major Brockenbrough and the United States district attorney for Oregon would most likely, after an effort of nearly two years to find something against me, have been pushing this suit instead of having it dismissed.

As to some compromise between me and the government, mentioned above, it is wholly untrue. No compromise was ever talked about. I defied them to push their slanderous suit.

You will see the suit commenced against me was for fencing 440 acres of government land. This land was the property of G W Lonsley and C Rafferty.

On leaving Oregon, and just before the presidential election, McCormick published in some Eastern papers, which I believe was copied in THE OREGONIAN, that I had fenced illegally some 20,000 acres of government land.

By giving this a place in THE OREGONIAN you will greatly oblige JOHN F. MILLER.

IDAHO'S GIANT STRIDES.

Her Rapid Advancement in Every Direction of Progress.

Great Irrigating Canals To Be Built, Thus Reclaiming Millions of Acres of Arable Land—the Legislature

Hon A F Parker the graphic pencil pusher of the Idaho Free Press, whose descriptive articles on Idaho territory have been read with pleasure by the thousands of readers of the OREGONIAN for many years past arrived from Boise City yesterday, and knowing him to be a walking epitome of facts relating to the resources, advantages and industries of his territory a reporter sought him out and was greeted with that urbanity and fellow feeling which hard working journalists experience towards each other.

In response to a question as to affairs in Idaho, Mr Parker said: "The territory was making giant strides towards progress and prosperity, and that her growth in the next five years would exceed that which had occurred since its organization in 1863. In Southern Idaho the growth which has taken place in the last five years is remarkable and the influx of immigration continues unabated. The opening of the Fort Hall Indian reservation will also open to public settlement a large area of good lands which will be speedily occupied and made to support a dense population. The town of Pocatello started last year has already 500 buildings and another thousand will surely go up this summer. Great irrigating canals are being built and a syndicate of New York and Boston capitalists are maturing a scheme to take out the waters of Snake river at Eagle creek and divert them on to the great sage plains which border that stream, thus reclaiming millions of acres of arable land from the desert and rendering them productive. Senator Hearst stated in the senate the other day that the great Snake river valley was capable of sustaining a population of 2,000,000 inhabitants, and although the statement may appear incredible to those who do not intimately know the great extent and resources of that country, it is reasonable enough to those who do and I expect to live to see the day when every acre of those sage lands that lies under a water ditch will be worth $20 an acre. The soil is very fertile and needs but the one element of water to produce enormously."

"Are the northern counties growing?"

"Yes, the northern counties are increasing faster in proportion to population, area and wealth, than the southern counties owing to the fact that the agricultural lands in the Panhandle do not require irrigation to become productive and they are therefore considered more desirable for settlement and are fast being absorbed. In fact outside of Idaho county, there is not much very desirable land left that is fit for agriculture except in isolated spots. The growth of the north is retarded by Indian reservations, and the prospect does not look very favorable for a speedy settlement of the Indian problem. Both the Nez Perce and Coeur d'Alene Indians have our best lands under lock and key as it were and the country adjacent thereto is afflicted with a physical dry rot and stagnation in consequence. The Nez Perce reservation is pretty much all under fence now, and the Indians themselves are beginning to see that the severalty system is the only one under which they can live in the future. The reservation system however, has its adherents, and they are fighting hard to maintain things in statu quo."

"What is the character of the Nez Perce Indians, and how do you get along with the whites?"

"The Nez Perces and the Pen d'Oreilles are the mother tribes of all the Northwest inter mountain Indians, and the character of the Nez Perces is very high. Their record is one of unblemished loyalty to the whites and they are steadfast friends to our people. They herd their stock under the laws of the territory and are otherwise far advanced in civilization. The Kamiahs, in particular, are very intelligent and gave us great assistance in the Chief Joseph outbreak of 1877. At Mount Idaho we have a mission school which is attended by large numbers of Indian children and many of the older Indians are regularly ordained preachers of the Presbyterian persuasion, and occasionally preach to the whites in the villages bordering on the reservation. In fact they are the best, the most intelligent Indians on the coast and the government would find them a good tribe upon whom to make a thorough trial of the severalty system, as they have been self-sustaining, have abandoned their tribal relations and have for many years lived without a chief."

"What was the result of the late legislative session in Boise City?"

"There were not many laws enacted and but few were needed. The code of California was adopted two years ago and revision was only necessary in a few instances. A new act aimed to disfranchise the Mormons more completely than ever was incorporated into the political code and the civil code was amended in places to conform to or to facilitate the practice before the courts of civil procedure. The other legislative acts were appropriations for beneficial acts, as, for instance the creation of a territorial university at Moscow at a cost of $65,000 and another of $50,000 to build a territorial wagon road between the northern and southern counties. The latter project was the one in which my county was especially interested as it will open up a great region which has hitherto only been accessible by pack trains. This road runs from Mount Idaho to Florence, thence crosses Salmon river to the Warm Springs and thence follows up Secesh creek and drops over on to the headwaters of the north fork of the Payette river which it follows down past the Payette lakes and connects at Salmon Meadows with the wagon road system of Southern Idaho. The distance will be about 150 miles through several very rich mineral belts, which will necessarily be opened up by the road."

"Are the reports true about the disgraceful scenes alleged to have been enacted during the legislative session at Boise?"

"No, they are very largely exaggerated. There were some exciting scenes during the closing hours over the division of Alturas county, which was the issue of the entire session. Alturas was an overgrown county and her delegation have always been so arrogant and dictatorial and carried things their way in such a high handed manner that there was a general determination to divide the county and thus deprive it of its autocratic power in our politics. But by filibustering and delays they staved off action till the hour of adjournment when the divisionists reorganized both houses, created the counties of Logan and Elmore and gave another large slice to Bingham, so that there is not much left of old Alturas but the name. There was no disgraceful episodes such as you read about during the session. They are pure fiction. In fact it is fashionable now-a-days to sneer at all legislative bodies and to such an extent has this been carried that an odium attaches to the name of any man who has ever served a constituency in a legislative capacity. The fact is that the average legislator is a well meaning citizen who honestly tries to do his duty to the best of his ability, in return for which he is accused of all manner of dishonest things and actions by parties who had axes to grind and didn't succeed in getting their grinding done."

"How is the sentiment in Idaho for statehood?"

"Well, we rejoice in the admission of our sister territories but are in no particular hurry to assume the robes of statehood ourselves. We can well afford to wait awhile until our population and wealth will enable us to demand admission. Our population is now not much over 100,000 and our total valuation of taxable property is only $[illegible]1,000,000. Only about one-half of the property in the territory is listed for taxation and that portion is only assessed at about 60 per cent. If all the property was assessed at its full cash value the assessment roll would exceed $100,000,000. There are 40 school districts and 20,450 children of school age in the territory. Receipts of school money for 1888 were $100,000, and disbursements of the same amounted to $110,000. We have 15,000,000 acres of timber and mineral lands, a great portion of which is some of the finest forest land in America. The location of public lands in all the land offices throughout the territory is rapidly increasing as population flocks in and new mineral districts are being discovered at intervals frequent enough to keep the prospector on the alert. The districts which are attracting the most attention now are the Warrens and Alton districts in Idaho county, and the Seven Devils copper belt in Washington county. Warrens and Alton are exclusively gold and silver quartz, and in the latter camp $2,000,000 will be invested in machinery and development work as soon as the terminal wagon road is completed. The Seven Devils is the greatest copper camp in the world and it is expected that wonderful developments will take place there during the next two years and vast amounts of capital will be invested. In fact you may safely say that Idaho is all right and that when attention is attracted to her she will amply repay inspection."

Mr Parker will remain in the city a few days and then return to his home in the highlands of Idaho county.

INCREASING THE RATES

New Schedule for Passengers and Freight Issued by the O. R. & N. Co.

The O R & N. Co has issued a new schedule largely increasing the passenger and freight rates between this city and Astoria, which will go into effect on March 1.

The rate for passengers between Portland and Astoria, which has of late been 75 cents, and for the round trip $1, will be $2 each way or $3 for the round trip.

The rates of freight under the new schedule are as follows: Portland to St. John's, mouth of Willamette, St Helens, 50 cents; Columbia City, 75 cents; Kalama, Rainier and Cedar Landing, $1; Mount Coffin, $1 25; Cleveland, Knappa and intermediate points, $1 50; Astoria, $2. Rates between intermediate points are raised in the same proportion.

The old rates were as follows: Portland to St John's, mouth of Willamette, St. Helens, 25 cents; to Columbia City, Brookfield and intermediate points, 50 cents, and to Pillar Rock, Knappa and Astoria, 75 cents.

Another Suit Against Joseph Holladay—The Litigants Compromised—Charged With "Misappropriation"—Guardian Appointed

Suit was begun in the United States district court yesterday by James Alfred Jones, Isaac Davenport, jr, and William E Sims against Joseph Holladay, as executor of the estate of Ben Holladay, to recover the sum of $37,[illegible]26.

Plaintiffs as special commissioners of the district court of the United States for the Western district of Virginia in the matter of S C Tardy, bankrupt, sold to Ben Holladay in 1883 certain real property in Bath county, Virginia, known as the Hot Springs property. A part of the purchase price was paid and Ben Holladay made certain bonds to secure the balance, in which bonds Warren Leland, J A Warren, John L Eubank and Michael Mustoe were [illegible] sureties but had no benefit therefrom.

On the 8th of October 188[illegible] this property was resold at the cost of Ben Holladay and said sale was reported to the district court of the United States and on the 21st of July 1888 that court made an order directing plaintiffs to credit the proceeds of the sale and to collect the balance due from the estate of Ben Holladay, deceased, and pronounced a decree in the said proceeding in which it was found there was due on account [illegible] the sum of $[illegible] with interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum from October 28, 1887.

When Joe Holladay published his notices for the creditors of the estate to present their claims, this one was presented, examined and rejected, and is now due. Therefore the plaintiffs pray the court, through their attorneys McDougall & Bower, for judgment.

YESTERDAY'S POLICE COURT

James Collins and W O Brown, drunk, fined $5 each. Barney Kirnan, a drunk, [illegible] Thomas [illegible] $2 each. J I Daley, drunk and [illegible], ten days in the city jail. J J Cuigler, roaming the streets after [illegible] o'clock at night, $10. Lizzie Smith and M Lucas, disorderly conduct, forfeited $10 each.

Willie and Harry [illegible], two boys, charged with violating the curfew ordinance, were sentenced to five days' imprisonment until some permanent disposition can be made of their cases.

Frank Dowling, charged with using abusive language to Emil Weber, asked for one day's continuance. The request was granted and the case will be called in the police court this afternoon.

Tim Sullivan, a confirmed vagrant having just recently been released from the county jail, where he was serving a term for vagrancy, was yesterday again in the police court booked on the same charge. The prisoner entered a plea of guilty and asked for leniency on the ground that he had sniffed the air of freedom for but a few days and therefore not enough time had elapsed to constitute his offense a crime of vagrancy. The court however had been apprised that Sullivan was imposing upon the hospitality of the city by sleeping in the police station at night and roaming the streets in the daytime without making any efforts to obtain employment and a sentence of sixty days was imposed.

DE RUSEY GETS SEVEN YEARS

Jules B DeRusey, the young man who Tuesday pleaded guilty to a charge of making a murderous assault upon his mistress Bertie Robinson in a First street lodging house, appeared before Judge Stearns yesterday morning for sentence. The usual question as to whether or not he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon him being asked, the prisoner shook his head and replied in the negative. Judge Stearns then sentenced him to seven years in the state penitentiary at Salem. DeRusey was surprised at the heavy sentence, for he had evidently been expecting to get off with two or three years. Yesterday afternoon the newly pronounced convict was taken by Sheriff Kelly to his new home in the penitentiary, where he will have opportunity enough to reflect upon the adversities of a disreputable life.

THEY DECIDED THEIR OWN CASE

The case of John B Gross against Hermann Kittler for the possession of a saloon on G and East Park streets went to the jury at a late hour Tuesday night in Judge Shattuck's court. The jury reached a decision and returned a sealed verdict at the opening of court yesterday morning. When the verdict was opened it was ascertained that the phraseology was not exactly in conformity with legal requirements, making the document null and void. The jury were then returned to the jury room and instructed to prepare another verdict.

While the jurors were out, the litigants appeared in court and compromised the case before a second verdict was reached, thereby dispensing with the services of the jurymen. The jury was called out and discharged and the litigants are to divide the costs of the case between them.

THE CASE COMPROMISED

The suit of F Bauchler against B F Clayton and A W Oliver, doing business under the firm name of Clayton & Oliver, for the recovery of $250 commenced in Judge Shattuck's court February 21, was yesterday dismissed upon defendants agreeing to pay the amount sued for and costs of action. Plaintiff alleged in his complaint that he paid that amount down to defendants on a piece of property for which he was to pay $3000, defendants agreeing to procure a warranty deed and satisfactory title within ten days. As this agreement was not complied with within the specified time, nor the $250 refunded, plaintiff instituted this action for the recovery of the amount, with interest.

SUIT FOR LAND

In the United States circuit court yesterday Henry C. Wilson, through his attorney C B Bellinger, commenced suit against [illegible] for possession of a tract of land in Lake county. The complaint alleges that three years since C C Alexander received a final certificate under the homestead law to the northwest quarter of section [illegible] in township 36 south, R [illegible], and that said Alexander thereafter conveyed the same to Wilson by warranty deed, and that [illegible] has unlawfully entered upon said land and unlawfully withholds possession thereof from plaintiff. The value of the land is $4000, and plaintiff asks a judgment putting him in possession thereof.

SHE OBTAINED A DIVORCE

The divorce case of Anna Staples against her husband Charles Staples, tried in Judge Stearns' court yesterday afternoon, was decided in favor of the plaintiff. The court granted the decree of divorce and allowed her to retain the custody of her two children. In addition to this, the plaintiff is to receive $12 from the defendant.

ESTATE OF CRAWFISH CHARLEY

C J Prager was yesterday appointed administrator of the estate of Charles John Olsen, or as he was more familiarly called, Crawfish Charley, the man who was shot by the Italian Frank Jr hetta some days ago. The estate consists of $10 in cash and the administrator was required to file a bond for $60.

IN JUSTICE PHELAN'S COURT

Yesterday afternoon J. S. McDaniels swore out a complaint against W. D. Howe, accusing him of misappropriating funds to the amount of $80 which were entrusted to his care. Upon being arrested the defendant strongly denied his guilt.

GUARDIAN APPOINTED

The county court yesterday appointed Pauline Scott guardian of the persons and estate of Frederick W Scott, Thomas Scott, Jessie Scott, Mary Scott and Minnie Scott, all minors. The estate does not exceed $250.

THESE WILL WED

Marriage licenses were yesterday issued to R. F. Gilbert and Iola Robinson; O. S. Pomeroy and Alice Walling and C. S. Auble and Cornelia G Lane.

SUPERVISORS OBTAIN THEIR WARRANTS

The county court yesterday passed upon the reports of the county supervisors and ordered their accounts paid.

NEW CAPITAL

Among the many indications of the gaining confidence in the permanent resources of Oregon and Washington is the willingness now being shown by Eastern capital for investments here.

It is gratifying to note that after a careful survey of the principal cities of the Northwest the Jarvis Conklin Mortgage Trust Company has decided to open a branch office in Portland, which will be the headquarters for the business done in the Pacific coast.

This company has the largest paid up capital of any similar financial institution in the United States. Its principal offices are in Kansas City and New York. The business of the company is exclusively that of loaning money on improved farms and city property.

The advantage of having a large amount of available capital for use in the development of our country cannot be overestimated. With all its boundless resources its growth would be retarded several generations if it were not for the help of outside capital from the older sections of the United States.

This company has invested over $20,000,000 in the Middle states during the past twelve years.

The company is under most able management and whenever it extends its business operations its name is a synonym for strength and fair dealing.

The branch office located here is under the superintendence of Mr Richard R. Conklin, the secretary of the company.

It will have all the facilities for making and closing loans promptly as the principal Eastern office.

ACTIVITY ALONG THE RIVER

Captain Dinsmore, of the Ship Sawyer, Takes Command of the Hulbert

Amount of Produce Being Shipped to Portland—Vessels to Come—Steamer Undine—Various Notes

The steamer Traveler came up the river yesterday at 3:30 o'clock P. M. with an unusual large load of hay and potatoes from Washougal and La Camas. In talking with the dock clerks yesterday a reporter ascertained that shipments of these very necessary products are increasing daily on account of the great demand along the southern coast and at some localities on the northern seaboard, such as points in Alaska and Victoria. This has given a healthy impetus to business not only at those particular points mentioned in Washington territory but also the upper waters of the Willamette, as the cargoes brought from Corvallis and way stations testify. All the river boats at present have as much as they can do and additions and repairs are constantly being made on each line of steamers in anticipation of the spring and fall seasons opening up with an amount of traffic which has not been previously known.

The Undine is still lying at the foot of Taylor street. She will soon be put upon a route again. In talking with a steamboat captain who is in the employ of the company that owned her it was ascertained that her work had not yet been planned. She will probably compete with the upper Willamette river boats as she is of light draft, and consequently more adapted to that depth of water. The Undine was built last year and exhibits not the least sign of wear as yet. Not only being well prepared for carrying a large number of passengers and a considerable cargo, she is also capable of an exceedingly fast rate of speed. She has a record of eighteen miles per hour and in an emergency she can surpass this as was clearly shown last June when she had a spurt of several miles with the T. J. Potter while coming up from Astoria. [illegible]

The following ships are already making preparations to load for this port to arrive during the coming season: The British ship Nagpore, of [illegible] tons burden, at London, and chartered by Meyer, Wilson & Co.; the British ship Borrowdale, of [illegible] tons, which sailed from Liverpool February 4, chartered by Balfour, Guthrie & Co; the British bark British Army, of 1281 tons, at Liverpool, and chartered by Meyer, Wilson & Co.; the German bark Margaretha, of 48[illegible] tons, at Newcastle, Australia; the British ship Cambrian Queen, of 1800 tons, at Australia, and the Tillie E. Starbuck, an American ship of 1931 tons burden, at New York, chartered by Sutton & Beebe.

The Undine is expected in this morning at [illegible] o'clock with a good general cargo, including a large consignment of potatoes and machinery for the Michigan Land Company, of which P. C. McFarland is manager. The machinery will be used in the company's mill for which the piles are already driven. This mill will have a capacity of 700,000 feet of lumber per day and can turn out much more when absolutely necessary. The amount of lumber now being brought down the river in rafts is causing many rumors to be afloat concerning other projects of a like character being entered into to meet the enormous supply.

The Telephone arrived at the Ash street dock yesterday at 4 P. M. with another large quantity of fish, consisting for the most part of sturgeon and smelt. The smelt, which were flooding the market a few days ago, are already found in less quantities, and the river boats report a remarkable falling off within the last twenty-four hours. These fish travel in large schools and are followed by sturgeon, which feed upon them. The latter fish, as the smelt have gone farther up the river, are now filling the market and constitute the greater part of the cargo of fish which the river steamers are now bringing to this port.

The C. S. Hulbert has a new captain. Captain F. B. Dinsmore arrived overland yesterday to take charge of her, as Captain Davis, her present master, intends going home as soon as possible on account of ill health. Captain Dinsmore had charge of the American ship E. F. Sawyer when she collided last November with the English steamer Polonuria. Both vessels were headed up the English channel when the Polonuria struck the Sawyer amidships, immediately sinking her, however without any lives being lost.

The little tug Wright towed the recently damaged government barge over to the Willamette shipyard yesterday. As the rudder beam was badly broken, the contractors Paquet Bros. & Smith were compelled to take her where the best of facilities for repairing her could be obtained. Having completed the last boat, they did not have the apparatus in such a condition that the work could be done well at their own yard, while that used in launching the R. R. Thompson was still in position.

The W. M. Hoag came in yesterday with the largest cargo that she has ever brought down the river. It consisted of 180 tons composed mostly of flour and feed. Of flour alone 3500 sacks were consigned to different firms in the city. Considering that 100 tons is the average load, it was an unusual cargo. Notwithstanding this the Oregon Pacific boats are hardly able to convey the freight away as fast as it accumulates, so great is the pressure of traffic at the present time.

The British bark Samoa, 1109, arrived [illegible] yesterday, 111 days from Liverpool, with 15,[illegible]00 boxes tin aboard for Astoria. The British bark Gartmore, 1055 tons, also arrived in 125 days from Liverpool with 40,000 boxes tin. This week three cargoes of tin plate have arrived for Columbia river canneries, aggregating 58,750 cases. The duty on this amount of tin plate, payable at the Astoria custom house, is $31,000.—Astorian.

The Lucca Mason came in from Lewis river at [illegible] o'clock P. M. yesterday with a full cargo of produce. This boat is making regular trips up that stream which runs through as good farming country as can be found anywhere. It is nevertheless only a fair sample of the Northwestern lands that only need to be given quick transportation by the river boats to market in order to make them figure just as prominently in the steamer traffic.

The Latona, which is now making two trips daily, came down from Oregon City yesterday at 2:30 P. M. The Oregon City Transportation Company are having all the traffic for her that she can attend to. On her last trip a large general cargo and quite a number of passengers were brought down beside the machinery from the Excelsior Mills, which will be repaired in this city.

The Manzanillo will arrive at Alder street wharf to-day at 3 o'clock P. M. from Clatskanie. She is expected to bring up a large amount of lumber.

The steamer Maria, which has been towing for the St. Helens mill, is now at the foot of Taylor street. She will remain there a few days.

The Columbia sails to-night at high tide.

NEW DEPARTMENT COMMANDER

A Short Sketch of the Military Record and Educational Career of Hon E. B. McElroy

Hon E. B. McElroy, state superintendent of public instruction, who was yesterday elected department commander of the G. A. R. for the department of Oregon, was born in Washington county, Pa., in September 1842, and is consequently now in his 47th year. His early boyhood was spent on a farm. At the age of 1[illegible] he entered school, and remained there until the breaking out of the war in 1861, when at the age of 19 he enlisted as a private in the First Regiment West Virginia Volunteers. He served in this regiment until 1863, participating in the battles of Cheat Mountain, Romney and Winchester under Kelly and Shields. In 186[illegible] he was mustered out and immediately enlisted as a veteran volunteer in the [illegible] Regiment Pennsylvania Veteran Volunteers ("Round Heads") and served in this regiment until it was mustered out of service July 186[illegible]. In the latter regiment he was engaged in the battles of the Wilderness, Spottsylvania, Bethesda Church, Cold Harbor, Petersburg, Poplar Spring Church, Grove Mine Explosion, Weldon Railroad, [illegible], Hatcher's Run, Fort Stedman and the final assault on Petersburg.

Upon being mustered out of service at the close of the war Mr McElroy re-entered college, where he remained for two years. From that time until 1874 he was engaged in teaching in Pennsylvania and West Virginia. In 1869 he was married in Washington county, Pennsylvania, to Miss Agnes C McFadden.

In the spring of 1874 they moved to Corvallis, Benton county, Oregon. The same year Professor McElroy was elected principal of the Corvallis public school. In 187[illegible] he was elected to a chair in the State Agricultural college, which position he filled until 188[illegible], when he was elected state superintendent of public instruction. In 1886 he was renominated by his party by acclamation and re-elected by a handsome majority, and is now serving his second term as state superintendent. During the eight years he resided in Corvallis Professor McElroy served six years as county superintendent of Benton county, and such was his [illegible] and popularity [illegible] that [illegible] against him.

The professor [illegible] Salem [illegible] and his estimable wife are well known [illegible] works. They have a family of five children. The professor is [illegible] of great activity [illegible]. His oft quoted motto among his friends is "work." He is pre-eminently a worker and has a high reputation for organizing ability and executive force. He served through the entire war. He was a brave soldier and has a splendid army record, and the Grand Army of the Republic of this department has done itself credit by selecting as its department commander a man who [illegible] ranks during the long four years of the war.
